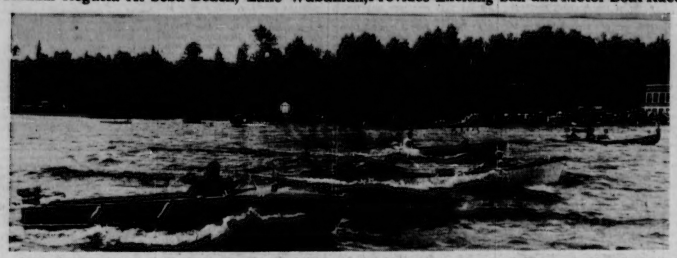
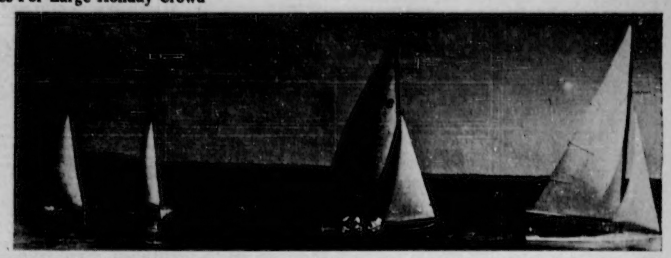
Annual Regatta At Seba Beach, Lake Wabamun, Provides Exciting Sail and Motor Boat Races For Large Holiday Crowd





Among the many features of the annual Edmonton civic holiday week-end, was the regatta held at Seba Beach, Lake Wabamun, on Sunday. Thousands of holidaymakers from Edmonton and other points thronged the beaches to witness the thrilling events, or even better, to pillow in other boats. There were exciting starts, as well as finishes, and the general opinion was that it was one of the most successful regattas ever held at the popular lake resort. Stores Smashed, Looted, Fired In U.K. Anti-Jewish Disorders

LONDON, Aug. 4—(CP)—Heavily-reinforced flying squads of police restored order in Liverpool and Manchester early today after rioting crowds had smashed, looted and burned several Jewish stores last night.

FOUR PERSONS were arrested in Liverpool, where police were placed on an emergency basis, and one Jew, who suffered injuries from a beating was in hospital.

Last night's disturbances climaxed a week-end of similar disorders, which also involved London, Glasgow and other cities. These followed the recent hanging of two British sergeants by Jewish extremists in Palestine

Horace Newbold, secretary of the Lancashire and Cheshire Federation of Trades Councils, said he was convinced the feelings of the rioters had been "played upon by

To Be Tried, Executed

Terrorists Threaten Hang More Britons

PARIS, Aug. 4—(AP)—British soldiers in future will be tried and executed by Irgun Zvai Leumi as soon as they are captured, a leader of the Jewish underground organization said today in a press conference.

HE SAID SERGEANTS Clifford Martin and Mervyn Paice, found hanged in Palestine last Thursday, were "known to be guilty of anti-espionage in civilian dress."

He would not enumerate others on Irgun's death list. When asked about Gen. Sir Evelyn Barker, former British commander in Palestine, the Irgun leader said "he has an account to be settled."

"We don't recognize the right of the British government in Palestine," the Irgun leader said, "It is our country and we are vowed to bring about its liberation." He said the British white paper published in 1939 was tantamount to abolishing the British mandate over Palestine.

THE IRGUN LEADER said "we are going to try to avoid an open clash with Hagana," another Jewish underground organization, but added, "we will fight on two fronts

Arrest Sask. Man For City Robbery

The long arm of the law stretched out from Edmonton and searched all across Canada in the last 11 months and finally on Saturday the grasp closed on 22-year-old Glen Thorpe, alias Mark Glen Wayne, Lac Vert, Sask., the man alleged to have robbed the west end branch of the Bank of Toronto of $700 last Sept. 23.

The accused was arrested in a Toronto hotel by detectives who entered his room with guns drawn. Thorpe is also wanted on forgery charges in Montreal, Quebec City and Winnipeg.

Detective Inspector Bert Petheram, Edmonton police, said that a warrant was issued for Thorpe's arrest last Feb. 12 following a series of investigations by Detective Frank Kingzett, which led police to believe Thorpe responsible for the armed robbery of the city bank.

The inspector said permission has been received to bring the accused to Edmonton to stand trial for the bank robbery. Detective Petheram praised the investigations carried out by Detective Kingzett, who obtained pictures of Thorpe and had them published in the RCMP gazette of wanted men.

On Sept. 23 at 11.20 a.m. a lone bandit, wearing dark glasses and armed with a revolver entered the newly-opened Jasper Place branch of the Bank of Toronto, Stony Plain road, near 143 street, committed the hold-up and then escaped in a car. Another man is believed to have been waiting in the car.

Say Rockefeller Will Visit City

Although local officials of Imperial could not confirm it Monday, a report in oil circles indicated that John D. Rockefeller, Jr., heir to the late multi-millionaire and large stockholder in the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, probably will be among the large party of officials scheduled to visit the new Edmonton oilfields August 23.

Preparations for their reception are being made by local officers of Imperial. It is expected the United States officials, headed by Eugene Holman, president of Standard, will be accompanied here by H. H. Hewetson of Toronto, president of the Imperial Oil Company of Canada.

Soviet Aid Plan Rejection Seen as "Greatest Crime"

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Aug. 4—(AP)—Earl O. Shreve, president of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, asserted today his belief that Soviet Russia's rejection of the Marshall Plan will be rated by history as the greatest single crime of totalitarianism."

Shreve, in a prepared address at the opening session of the Northeastern Institute, said "the Russian decision to shun participation in the American program for aid to war-impoverished nations was " in a class with Berlin-Moscow pact which touched off a global war."

"It is a crime whose principal victims are the teeming millions under the Kremlin's domination," he contended.

Shreve accused Russia of pursuing a "strategy of delay, obstruction and prolonged chaos" in the conviction that "a major capitalist collapse" was imminent.

"They're stalling for time so that they may be ready to pick up the pieces when the smash-up comes," he said.

Paraguay President Flees From Capital

BUENOS AIRES, Aug. 4—(Reuters)—Gen. Higinio Morinigo, president of Paraguay, has fled from Asuncion, capital of Paraguay, as bloody fighting in the five-month-old civil war spread around the city from the nearby naval base of Vinas Cue, reports from the Argentine-Paraguay frontier said today.

The destination of Morinigo, who was accompanied by his cabinet, was not known.

(Last night the rebel forces were reported by Reuters News Agency "doubling back"—toward the capital—and "fleeing under constant pressure by pursuit units" of loyal government forces and "harassment by our air force.")

Paraguayan insurgents sources stated that one regiment of Paraguayan government forces was destroyed when insurgent forces, moving down the Paraguay river, landed at Vinas Cue after occupying the military base of Villa Hayes, 16 miles north of the capital.

Imperial Oil's No. 7 Is Nearing Production

If Imperial Oil Company's Leduc No. 7 well follows the example of its No. 6, it will burst into production some time Tuesday since work on drilling out plug at 5,392 feet will begin Monday afternoon and baling operations at daybreak Tuesday.

WITH A STRING of six un broken drilling successes in the Leduc sector of the new Edmonton oil fields, and another confidently expected Tuesday, the field's importance in extension and positive indications continues to grow with independent drillers.

Extension of the field by independents was indicated in the handsome showing Saturday of Globe-Leduc West No. 2 which gave a rise of 540 feet of live, clean crude oil in a drillstem test after

Plan Drill Well Winterburn Reserve

Within the next two weeks, Canadian Gulf Oil Co. expects to spud in its first exploratory well on the Winterburn Indian Reserve, it was announced at the week-end by John H. Bevel, general agent of the production division of Calgary.

If the well is successful, it will be the closest producer to Edmonton yet brought in. The site for the well at the reserve is about nine miles west of Edmonton.

Canadian Gulf has several thousand acres of reserve land on the Indian reservation, and other reserve territories throughout Alberta.

The company is drilling at present in the Pincher Creek area, and has exploration parties in various areas of the province.

Large reserves are held by the company in the Red Deer area.

Seba Beach Boasts Many Attractions Over Holiday Week-end

Cease-Fire Order Gives U.N. First Big Victory For Peace

BATAVIA, JAVA, Aug. 4—(CP)—The Indonesian Republic joined the Dutch tonight in announcing a cease-fire order to troops, stopping hostilities in Indonesia and giving the United Nations its first big Victory for peace.

A REPUBLICAN reply to the U.N. Security Council's demand for a halt to the 15-day war said the Republic was issuing a cease-fire to all troops tonight. The announcement was broadcast from Jogjakarta shortly after 8 p.m. (6.30 a.m. MDT). The Dutch had announced Sunday a cease-fire effective midnight today. Dutch advances had halted even before the deadline.

The Republican government asked the Security Council to appoint an impartial committee to supervise enforcement of the cease-fire. It said Dutch military

Churchill Raps Govt. For Britain's Plight

WOODSTOCK, Eng., Aug. 4—(CP) — Winston Churchill said today that much of the American loan had been "frittered away" by the Labor government. He nonetheless pledged himself to back efforts to obtain "easements" in conditions surrounding the swiftly disappearing $3,750,000,000, and to obtain new credits from Washington.

"IF, NOW, sharp changes and curtailments are to be made in the loan expenditure on non-essentials, it will be everyone's duty to accept them," Churchill said.

The wartime leader's speech was delivered at a Conservative party gathering, honoring him in the grounds of Blenheim Palace, his birthplace and seat of the Duke of Marlborough. More than 50,000 persons gathered to hear his first major speech since a hernia operation last May, which necessitated a temporary withdrawal from political life.

Some of the loan conditions "alarmed" him, he said, particularly the clause obligating Great Britain to make current sterling transactions by British customers freely convertible into dollars.

"HOWEVER, I relied, and rely now, on the wisdom of the fair-minded American people to make the necessary easements, without which a policy for which they have

U.S. Agents Battle Dope Smugglers

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4—(AP)—The United States treasury said today its agents tracking down dope smugglers and moonshiners met desperado violence this spring reminiscent of "the old rum-running days."

Two investigators were slain from ambush in Georgia and one squad of "T-Men" had their car riddled by bullets while shooting it out with dope smugglers on the California-Mexico border.

Two, and possibly three, of the smugglers were wounded fatally although they lived long enough to escape into Mexico, the treasury said. The agents were untouched.

U.K. Crisis Budget Planned for Autumn

By FRASER WIGTON

LONDON, Aug. 4—(Reuters)—The government is prepared to introduce a special autumn budget to counteract any inflationary dangers arising from the measures it will announce Wednesday to meet Britain's present economic crisis, it was learned today.

The most serious problem may come from the increased spending powers of workers in industries whose production is to be stepped up.

Prime Minister Attlee had a preliminary meeting today with the financial group of cabinet members.

A special meeting of the defence committee, which includes Britain's service chiefs, was also held to deal with the curtailment of service manpower. This is one of the principal cuts which the government intends to make to stabilize the national economy through boosting exports and restricting imports.

Held Responsible in Necktie Slaying

Murder Suspect Calls on Priest, Calmly Awaits Arrival of Police

MONTREAL, Aug. 4—(CP)—Roland Fiset paid a visit to a parish priest in suburban St. Paul L'Ermite last night, sat down and talked of his troubles, and then waited quietly until police came after the priest told him he knew the man was wanted as a murder suspect.

FISET, a 22-year-old accountant, was found criminally responsible by a coroner's jury Saturday for the necktie slaying of Annette Diotte, a 36-year-old candy factory worker whose body was found last Friday on the floor of her tiny one-room apartment on east-end Labelle street.

Capt. Detective Georges Allain of the homicide squad said today that Fiset, who was arraigned this morning, had made a statement in connection with the murder in which he admitted that an argument in which blows were struck by both parties had preceded the slaying, believed to have taken place some-

First History-Making Flight

Air-Borne British Immigrants Offered Jobs as Plane Lands

By Fred Kerner

TORONTO, Aug. 4—(CP)—The first plane-load of the history-making mass flight of British immigrants to Ontario had no sooner arrived at Malton Airport Sunday than offers of jobs were being made and accepted. Vanguard of an expected total of 7,000 newcomers in the next few months, the 34 men and five women arriving Sunday were greeted by Premier Drew of Ontario, Planning Minister Dana Porter and a host of relatives and friends.

ALMOST BEFORE she had reached the big hangar which served as reception centre, pretty 25-year-old Doris Holloway of London had accepted a job as a stenographer in Windsor. Out like a former typist in the British foreign office.

James Doran, six-foot-three Irishman from County Down, was offered a construction job in Toronto before he had got off the landing strip. He said "there is no work in Ireland" and that he had been employed in London for the past year.

Premier Drew, in a brief speech of welcome, paid tribute to their courage in starting afresh in a country strange to the great majority. "It is challenging to think of persons coming by air, and the success of this first flight bodes well for the others of the 7,000 who will be coming to Ontario." A second flight is to arrive Tuesday.

PREMIER DREW noted that the arrival date was exactly two months after first discussions started on the scheme.

After Italian Downfall

"Love Story" Helped Fly Duce to Germany

By Tom Reedy

DACHAU, Aug. 4—(AP)—A romantic Italian merchant who thought he was only playing cupid helped Adolf Hitler rescue Benito Mussolini, it was intimated here Sunday, three years after the death of the Duce.

THE STORY CAME from the prison cell of S.S. Col. Otto Skorzeny, giant paratrooper whose feats made him the most publicized German soldier of the air. The six-foot-five Skorzeny wrote a 42-page account of his abduction of Mussolini on Hitler's orders.

Skorzeny's account of his capture of Mussolini after a crash glider landing high in the Appenines is a lurid tale. The project was ordered by Hitler in the spring of 1943 after the Italians installed Marshal Badoglio as head of state.

"He (Hitler) informed me," said Skorzeny, "that he was firmly resolved not to leave his friend Mussolini in the lurch and to prevent under all circumstances his extradition to the Allies." The S.S. colonel said he then set out with a staff of five to find the Duce, well-hidden by the Badoglio government. He heard Mussolini might be held in the Appenines. He spoke to an Italian merchant:

"I INVENTED a girl friend from Rome who had fled in fear of Allied bomb attacks and begged him to help me send her a love letter. The Italian informed me the only way of access (to the hide-out) was out of bounds of all traffic."

The man still anxious to try to deliver the "love letter," reported to Skorzeny later a rumor that all the secrecy had something to do with Mussolini.

Skorzeny prepared 12 gliders and took off for the 6,000-foot aerie. Skorzeny landed 30 feet from a hotel where Mussolini was held. Italian guards were too surprised to act and "the hotel was surrounded without resistance."

HE REPORTED to Mussolini: 'Duce, the Fuehrer has sent me as a token of his loyal friendship.' Mussolini embraced me and assured that he had daily expected his extradition to the Allies but that he would have put on end, to his life beforehand."

Skorzeny decided to take off from an improvised field in a Storch plane, built for one or two passengers. Later they transferred to Luftwaffe transports and flew to Vienna, thence to Hitler's headquarters.

Skorzeny goes on trial Aug. 18 with eight of his fellow SS men charged with using American uniforms in efforts to spread confusion behind the Allied front lines.

Britain May Drop Socialist Plans

LONDON, Aug. 4—(AP)—Speculation that Britain's Labor government might postpone or even abandon pending nationalization measures in view of the country's economic crisis appeared in most London newspapers Sunday.

Official quarters declined comment.

The well-informed London Observer said it now "looks as if nationalisation' of iron and steel, scheduled for action in Parliament next October, will be dropped.

Back Austerity

demanded that the government, under wartime labor laws, order all industry to work overtime. The government previously had asked the miners to work an extra half an hour a day to bring the year's coal production to the minimum 200,000,000 tons needed for industry.

TRADE UNION leaders were reported to have agreed in principle to working overtime for one year. They were understood to have told the cabinet that all industry should join in an effort to get eight hours a week, making a maximum 48-hour week.

The austerity program to be announced by Attlee was expected to be in effect for a year at least. The main points of the program, in broad outline, were expected to include:

1. Renewed direction of labor under orders empowering the government to conscript labor, including 75 per cent of the youth. The measure was expected to be applied to textiles and clothing, iron and steel, automobiles, chemicals and other export lines yielding dollars.

2. Drastic reduction in the use of the $1,000,000,000 remaining in the American loan. Sir Richard Cripps, president of the Board of Trade, was urging Washington to reconsider articles 7, 8 and 9 governing British purchases outside the dollar area.

3. IMPOSITION of a new degree of austerity on Britons. This was expected to include revision of the entire food and clothing ration plan, cutting down commodities available to the public, including all imported foodstuffs, motion pictures and gasoline. .

4. Reduction of the armed forces so as to yield 250,000 men to the basic industries.

Support for a proposal for compulsory state loans from workers through local levies against industry was waning.

The basic problem was to find a way to bridge the gap between the exhaustion of the dollar loan this autumn and the operation of the Marshall Plan.

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Reports of a new British financial crisis, apparently taking United States officials by surprise, may force a review soon of the Anglo-American "partnership" in world affairs.

AUTHORITIES HERE said yesterday that if the British situation is as grave as pictured in reports in London in the last week that the emergency in which the United States finds itself may be great indeed.

Big to this point these authorities have taken the position that while Britain would need additional help in dollars fairly soon the Marshall Plan for European recovery could be put through soon enough to provide that help.

Great importance thus is attached here to Prime Minister Attlee's expected report during the coming week on the British crisis and exactly what his government plans to do about it.

Churchill

made heavy sacrifices will certainly fail in its effects," the wartime prime minister said.

"There is no shame in one brave and faithful ally, deeply injured in the common struggle, asking another to help him recover and stand upon his feet. Had the positions been reversed, we would have done the same for them.

"Therefore, I supported the American loan and I will still support and justify further appeals to the United States, provided that we are doing our best, that we are making the most of our resources, that we are determined to become a self-supporting nation and system at the earliest moment and will put aside every impediment, and labor long and hard."

Churchill charged that late and inadequate planning of Britain's Labor government had brought Britain to the brink of bankruptcy and starvation.

Churchill said "almost exactly two years ago when we emerged victorious from the war and all our enemies had surrendered unconditionally we stood high in the world and our name and if we were celebrated in many lands."

"Proud Britain, who stood alone against the mighty tyrant," was now forced to live on foreign aid, and also to subject herself to "private

Newfoundland Talks Near End

OTTAWA, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Union discussions with Newfoundland continued today to hold the capital limelight as activities in the government and political fields generally remained in the post-session doldrums.

Discussions between the Canadian and the Newfoundland representatives have reached a stage where a start could be mad' on the drafting of terms under which union might be workable, it was believed that the talks, inaugurated June 25, would be concluded within another week.

However, announcement of the terms agreed upon likely will not be made until the Newfoundlanders make their report to the 45-man national convention elected last year to recommend future form of forms of governme-t for the commission controlled island. Then simultaneous release would be made in Ottawa and St. John's.

a dip from 4,890 to 4,940 feet. This well is located one mile northwest of the Leduc sector's currently proven producing area. Monday it was down another 30 feet to 4,970 and reports showed the D2 zone was tightening.

Although the well could produce at its present level it is believed the directors have decided to deepen it to the third Devonian shield, expected in the next 40 feet.

Away to the north in the Athabasca sector of the Edmonton field Decalta Oils' Perryvale No. 1 is 2,620 feet into the top of the structure and Monday was at 2,620 feet. Drilling mud sample grindings are raising hopes and a slight loss of drilling mud experienced over the week-end could mean that porosity is reached. An electrolog will be taken today and if results warrant it a drillstem test will be run.

Delayed when a mud hose broke, the Globe Leduc West No. 1 resumed drilling Monday from 3,586 feet in the Viking sand section.

Rising prices in the United States had reduced the value in goods of the American loan and had increased the rate at which it had been expended.

But there were other reasons why the loan had been ineffective Churchill said. "Owing to the follies and indecision of the Socialist government a great part of the loan has been spent, not on the requirements of our industry nor upon the import of basic foodstuffs.

"INSTEAD, much has been frittered away in American films and tobacco and in large quantities of food and drink."

Launching into an attack against his opponents Churchill continued: "The government of the day knowledge, but they had neither the sense nor the decision to act. They were too busy planning and making their brave new world of controls and queues, of hordes of officials and multitudes of regulations.

"They exhausted what energies they had and consumed their time and thought in carrying out their ghastly fads." choking the House of Commons with partisan legislation; in disturbing, discouraging and even paralyzing business enterprise by nationalization schemes."

COAL WAS THE second major failure of the Socialist government, Churchill charged.

Now that the coal mines were nationalized the task of producing coal was much higher.

"With more miners at work and more machinery, we are producing 15,000,000 tons less a year than came out of the pits in 1941."

The Socialist's third major fault was the "wild financial extravagance to which the government have indulged. Nothing like this has ever been seen before."

But Turns It Down

Princess Receives Offer Place to Live in Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Princess Elizabeth, who will wed Lieut. Philip Mountbatten on Nov. 20, has turned down an offer to exchange apartments with a Chicago woman who said she didn't want the young couple to have the same problem facing most newlyweds these days—that of living with their in-laws.

Mrs. A. Spivak, 49, said she had written the Princess saying she had read that "because of the housing shortage you can't find an apartment and you are forced to live at Buckingham Palace with your parents."

Mrs. Spivak said she received this reply:

Two More Cars Hit Safety Zones

The safety zones now placed on city streets may protect pedestrians, but to motorists, they would appear to be a hazard. During the early hours of Sunday morning both of the zones at 100 street and Jasper avenue were hit by motor vehicles. These two latest reports now bring the total to seven motorists who have had accidents involving the safety zones during the last four weeks.

At 1.15 a.m., Sunday, Art Hardy, Tofield, told police he was traveling west on Jasper, swung out to pass an auto, and the next thing he knew his car was sitting atop the concrete abutment part of the safety zone. He suffered no injuries but his car was damaged.

An hour and three quarters after this, Archie Grandbois, 9670 Jasper avenue, drove his vehicle onto the safety zone on the south side of Jasper. He was arrested by police on a charge of being drunk in charge of a car.

The city is reported to be making arrangements to install flickering lights at the ends of each of the safety zones.

if necessary." He said Hagana had become the police dog of the British "invader", adding:

"The Hagana is today what the Vichy government was yesterday—collaborators."

He said the hangings of Paice and Martin were in "no way to be construed as reprisal. The two Britons were hanged for their own sins."

"However," he added, "the British have started systematically to hang their Hebrew prisoners and are using the gallows as a method of warfare."

"IRGUN HAS decided that we are going to employ this method. It therefore is to be expected that from now on various Britons will be arrested, court-martialed, and if found guilty, hanged without reference to any recent hangings of Hebrew prisoners of war."

In Jerusalem, Irgun Zvai Leumi yesterday threatened to hang more British soldiers. In a "communique" over its secret radio station "The Voice of Fighting Zion," Irgun, which last week murdered two youthful British sergeants in revenge for the hangings of three Irgunists, said seven more British soldiers are "scheduled for the gallows."

"THE GALLOWS account still is to be evened," Irgun said, referring to the nine Jewish extremists sentenced to death by hanging this year. Irgun implied that the deaths of Sgt. Merwyn Paice and Cpl. Clifford Martin reduced the murder of 'ti times they would seek to seven.

Fascists lurking in the background.

In Liverpool a cabinet factory was set on fire shortly before midnight Sunday. When firemen arrived to put out the flames, hostile crowds slashed fire hoses and jeered the firemen.

Crowds congregated in side streets and were moved on by police, reinforced by special officers and every police car that could be mobilized.

LARGE CROWDS of civilians and servicemen gathered in the centre of the Jewish area of Manchester and started to demonstrate. Some 400 people surrounded a Jewish dance hall and prevented the dancers from leaving until police arrived in force. Another large crowd assembled to watch plate windows of a clothing shop smashed. Each time a brick was thrown, there were cheers and cries of "down with the Jews."

A meeting under the auspices of the Jewish Ex-Servicemen's Association in London's east end was stopped by police when a hostile crowd of some 200 people interrupted the meeting.

Six windows of a synagogue in southeast London were damaged by stone throwing.

Window smashing and damage to Jewish stores were reported in Glasgow.

IN GLASGOW, there were demonstrations in Gorbals, the Jewish quarter, and police reported that bricks were tossed through the windows of 11 Jewish shops. Anti-Jewish slogans were discovered on the pavements.

At Birkenhead, 50 slaughtermen employed in the municipal abattoir refused to handle kosher killings after Monday. A spokesman said "we have decided on this stand as a protest against the treatment of British troops in Palestine."

An employe of a Liverpool cemetery was reported injured when demonstrators set fire to a small wooden building in the Jewish section of the cemetery.

LONDON, Aug. 4.—(CP)—Court actions began in three English cities today against persons arrested in connection with anti-Jewish riots that followed the reported hangings of two British sergeants in Palestine.

AT LIVERPOOL, 12 persons were remanded on bail on charges arising from what the police prosecutor described as "anti-Jewish trouble and demonstrations" during the week-end.

Five men at Salford, Lancs., arrested on similar charges, were released on bail. These trials were set for next Monday. The prosecutor there said 29 anti-Jewish incidents occurred during the week-end.

Fines were levied against three laborers in Manchester for throwing bricks through shop windows and being drunk and disorderly.

time last Wednesday.

FISET'S surrender had all the marking of a Hollywood murder mystery.

He rang the doorbell at St. Paul's Roman Catholic Church in St. Paul L'Ermite and was escorted to the office of the parish priest, Rev. Father Auguste Pare.

"May I have some water, father?" Fiset asked.

There is more on your mind than a glass of water," Father Pare replied as he filled a glass for him.

"You are Roland Fiset aren't you," the priest asked, recognizing him from photographs in the newspapers.

"Yes" he admitted.

"I AM SORRY, but I must do my duty and call the police." Father Pare told him.

Before and after admitting his identity, the priest said they had conversed at length.

Miss Diotte's body was found Friday in her apartment and a green necktie which police said had been used to strangle her lay on the floor nearby. On a table was a note which said in part: "We loved each other too much. . . this had to end."

POLICE SAID their investigation had disclosed that Fiset was a former boy friend of the slain woman and that they believed jealousy was the motive.

Dog "Kidnapper"

ROME, N. Y., Aug. 4.—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Shanley's dog, King, has an unusual pastime which amounts to "kidnapping." The Shanleys say that King likes to pick up neighborhood puppies and kittens in his mouth and bring them home. It's been going on since the Shanleys acquired the German shepherd four years ago.

Hostilities End

operations had cut communications in numerous places, leading to difficulties in enforcing the order on the Republican side, and asked that the world take this into consideration.

A DUTCH spokesman said most Netherlands units were already pulled up, several hours before the midnight deadline. There was almost no activity today at Semarang, which had been the Dutch troops' expected jumping-off place for an attack toward Jogjakarta.

The United Nations Security Council last Friday called upon both sides to cease fighting.

In statements yesterday the Indonesians said they were "willing" to cease hostilities, but that a truce could be carried out effectively only if the Dutch withdrew to demarcation lines established last October. There was no indication of Dutch agreement to this.

AT NOON THE Dutch announced landing of troops on the island of Madeora, off the east coast of Java.

Details of the operations on Madoera, which was to have been included in the Indonesian Republic under the Cheribon Agreement, were not disclosed by the army spokesman, who said merely that "safety measures" were being taken at the request of the population.

He added, however, that large quantities of rice were being shipped to Madoera for relief of the 1,000,000 or more persons living on the island, most of whom he said were starving as a result of being cut off from the Java mainland.

ORDERS FOR Dutch troops to cease military operations effective at midnight tonight (1 p.m. EDT) were issued last night by the Dutch acting-governor general, Huberius J. Van Mook, despite an expressed belief that the U.N. Security Council was exceeding its authorities in intervening.

Broadcasts from the Republican capital of Jogjakarta last night said the Republican government agreed "with the (Security Council) decision that hostilities should cease and was prepared to conduct all its efforts for the execution of the cessation of hostilities."

ANDREW WOOD, vice-president of the UFA and Mr. Buckingham district agriculturist for Crop District No. 10 also addressed the gathering.

Another resolution called for raising the initial payment on wheat to $1.60 per bushel, retroactive to cover the 1946-47 crop. The action of the provincial convention in turning down amalgamation under the proposed draft constitution which would have included the commercial organizations, was endorsed, and the mandate of the convention to attempt amalgation with the bona fide farmer members of the UFA was approved with a provision as follows that "we do not howe to sacrifice the principles of direct action and the right to co-operate with labour and similar groups."

The convention also called for the payment of world price for all wheat used for milling and distilling in Canada and that the price paid for all coarse grains to be brought more into line with the world market price for coarse grains.

The 1948 annual district convention will be held at Wainwright.

LACOMBE, Aug. 4—A good sized crowd flocked to Lacombe's exhibition grounds Wednesday, for Lacombe's annual fair. It was reduced to one day this year, due to rainy weather which forced cancellation of Tuesday's events.

THE FAIR GOT OFF to a good start Wednesday morning with a downtown parade that stretched three blocks. Led by 12 kilted members of the Calgary Highlanders cadet pipe band the parade attracted a large number. It consisted of the smart Lacombe cadet corps, including the girl's division under the direction of Lt. Edginton, many floats entered by Lacombe business firms, decorated cars, bicycles, new machinery, and several displays of cars.

In front of the band were several palomino horses entered by S. Henderson, Lacombe, and ridden by district residents. H. Cameron organized the parade, and H. Leggett completed the last minute parade arrangements.

The fair itself included miniature airplane rides and other entertaining midway attractions. A dance was held both Tuesday and Wednesday evenings in the Central Alberta Pavilion. The exhibition building attracted a steady stream of visitors throughout the day and many favorable comments were heard on the fine showing made.

Annual Red Deer Exhibition Closes

RED DEER, Aug. 4—The Red Deer Agricultural Society's fifth annual summer fair closed here late Saturday night after three days during There was an exceptionally heavy entry this year, attendance was good and weather all three days was very favorable. There was excellent entertainment for the large crowds of Central Alberta people who attended the grandstand attractions, race card and the biggest midway in years at Red Deer supplied by Jimmy Sullivan, owner of Wallace Bros. Shows.

Large crowds were on the grounds again Saturday to witness the grandstand attractions, races and the grand parade of prize winning livestock, features of the afternoon. In the evening packed stands saw two grandstand shows and chuck wagon races. The midway was running full blast both afternoon and evening with the many rides and side shows being well patronized.

H. O. Scragg, of Red Deer, was the holder of the winning ticket on Maisie, the registered Jersey calf donated to the fair board by Thomas Baines, Red Deer stockman. A lot of tickets were sold by the committee, directed by Fred Turnbull and Bob Edgar, assisted by Fred Smith, Larry Telning and others, for the Red Deer war memorial fund.

Livestock this year was outstanding. In addition to the usual money offered in the prize list by the agricultural society, the Alberta Hereford Breeders Association donated a large sum to the Hereford classes. The Alberta Ayreshire Club also held its first annual red and white show in conjunction with the fair and the contribution added considerably to the money in the Ayreshire division. The provincial junior dairy calf club show and the Red Deer Calf Club show were also held during the fair. The Alberta provincial swine breeders association offered increases to the regular prize money for Yorkshires and Tamworths.

A number of new classes had been added to the ladies section of the fair and this year there was a flower show which was an attractive feature.

The racing program was under direction of Jack Day and his committee. It started on Friday afternoon with another card on Saturday. There were some fast horses this year and the races were popular.

Exceptionally fine displays of farm machinery, trucks and automobiles and interesting commercial exhibits added considerably to things to be seen at the fair.

Hockey Prospects Declared Bright

Hockey prospects for the coming season in the Western Canada Senior League, look good, Dave "Sweeny" Schriner, coach of the Lethbridge Maple Leafs, commented in an interview here Saturday.

A great deal of the success will rely on the type of hockey the Saskatchewan teams will produce.

Atomic Energy Big Aid In Research Projects

By FRANK CAREY

OAK RIDGE, TENN., Aug. 4—(AP)—"Great achievements" in medicine, biology and industry have already been made with peacetime products of the United States atomic energy program, a report issued by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission declared today.

THE REPORT GAVE the first summary of progress in research conducted in institutions throughout the country since a year ago today. That was when "radioisotopes" produced at the important site in A-bomb development first were realized for sale and distribution to outside investigators.

"Radioisotopes" are radio-active, or "ray"-emitting, forms of common and rare elements. They are produced in the same kind of uranium chain-reacting oven that can produce plutonium for atomic bombs.

They can be used as atomic "labels" or "tracers" for the study of many chemical, physical, biological and industrial processes important to man. In some cases they serve as means of furnishing direct radition in the treatment of certain diseases. As "tracer" materials, their presence can be detected by delicate instruments.

The report:

1. TELLS OF development of a new aid for the study of cancer production; and of new possibilities for directing rays against cancerous tissue in specific areas of the body.

2. Describes use of certain radioisotopes in treating forms of chronic leukemi (a disease in which there is an excess of white cells in the blood); Hodgkins' disease (a malady characterized by enlargement of the lymphatic glands and spleen); a blood disorder called "polycythemia vera"; and also in the treatment of "lymphoma," a tumor made up of lymphoid tissue; and in treating hyperthyrodioism.

3. Relates how tuberculosis bacteria are being "tagged" with radio activity in research designed to advance knowledge of how they invade and infect the body.

4. Tells of employment of radioactivity to "map" oil pools, to study the friction of metals, and to detect flaws in metals.

5. DESCRIBES a new clue to the mechanism of the plant disease "chorosis" which costs commercial fruit growers millions of dollars annually.

6. Gives details of broad research on the agricultural front designed to achieve better crops, improved fertilizers and better methods of combating insect pests.

UNITED STATES CURRENCY MUST BE TURNED INTO THE BANKS

Why? because U.S. dollars spent by tourists are needed to pay for the many imported goods and services essential to keep Canadian industry at a high level of production and employment.

3. No Canadian resident is permitted to retain in his possession U.S. currency in excess of $10.00, but is required to turn in such funds to his bank for conversion into Canadian funds.

4. Merchants or others catering to the tourist trade may pay U.S. currency to non-resident tourists in change if U.S. currency is tendered for a purchase, and may retain in their possession a necessary amount of U.S. currency for this purpose.

A National Problem

The provincial department of health has revealed that Alberta is asking Ottawa authorities to bring trained nurses to this province from displaced persons camps in Europe.

Alberta, it is said, is anxious to obtain from 100 to 200 trained nurses.

This shortage is not entirely local. Every hospital, every community in Canada is undergoing the same experience. It is impossible to secure enough nurses to service private and public institutions and to maintain reserve enroiments.

It is a national problem and it is not being dealt with in a national way. Certainly little can be done to attack the fundamental reasons for the shortage when that effort is undertaken by individual hospitals and individual provinces.

There must be some underiying cause to account for the reluctance of Canadian girls to train in sufficient numbers for this honorable and well-paid profession. It would seem to be the duty, not of the provinces and hospitals, but of the federal authorities to discover what this underlying cause may be.

A national fact-finding investigation is required to deal with this serious and increasing problem.

Canada and the World

The various international conferences projected or now in progress throughout the world have a very intimate bearing on Canada's domestic future. Never before has the welfare of this country been so closely tied up with that of the rest of the globe. All these negotiations vitally affect Canada's foreign markets. And. Canada's level of employment at home depends largely on her foreign markets. Her production, which is the only source of wealth, is bound up closely with what is accomplished abroad.

If the Marshall economic plan goes into effect, the United States will underwrite European economic security and a peacetime form of lend-lease will be the result. A substantial amount of the required foodstuffs will be bought in Canada.

The importance of the result to be expected is obvious. Canadian industries which otherwise soon may be running out of European customers because European countries are running out of dollars, will be able to continue shipping to the European market, and getting paid for their goods in the American dollars the exchange position of the country needs so vitally.

At Geneva, the problem is to scale down tariffs to encourage a maximum flow of trade. Geneva is contending against two main difficulties. One is the extent to which the most-favored-nations principle has become written into the tariffs of the participating nations. Under its terms, if Canada made a deal with France for the free entry of motor cars, she would have to extend the same concession to the United States. But free entry of motor cars from the United States would destroy the huge branch plant motor car industry which has been built up in this country.

A second obstacle is the British Empire system of tariffs. Commonwealth countries are insistent that the Empire preferences shall only be traded for concessions of similar value. One price which Canada is said to have suggested is cancellation of the 42 cents per bushel duty imposed by Canada against American wheat.

The American authorities are reported to have regarded this proposal coldly.

Japan's Evil Genius

In abolishing the "home ministry," the current Japanese government has wiped out the organizational core that harbored the evil genius of the Japanese people.

Up until the present occupation, the home ministry filled a sinister and powerful place in Japanese life. It was the centre of the internal spy system, the agency which undertook to regulate the lives of the people down to the slightest detail. It possessed authority to punish mayors of towns and villages, to give or refuse funds to each community.

The home ministry was the tool of the military clique and the mechanism by which it controlled Japanese life just as it controlled the army and the department of foreign affairs. It was the instrument by which the Japanese junkers bludgeoned Japanese thought into compliance with its wildest schemes.

The home ministry, too, was the means by which the bureaucratic and totalitarian conception of the state was perpetuated. By its terroristic methods it maintained the principle that the people had no proprietary rights in government, that only the cabinet knew what was good and right for Japan.

Obviously, this institution was entirely incompatible with the principle of democracy and helps to bring the government back to the people.

Nevertheless, its abolition need inspire no hopes that Japan has attained modern self-government. The mere wiping out of a stumbling block in the path to democracy, does not necessarily mean that the Japanese are going to follow that path.

Indeed, it seems strange that an institution so inimical to what the Japanese call their new spirit of freedom has remained in existence as long as it has—if that spirit is genuine.

Canadian Fish As Food

The announcement by the minister of fisheries that he is setting up a board to promote the domestic sale and use of fish calls attention to the fact that the people of a country with some of the greatest fishing grounds in the world eat very little of this healthy and valuable food.

In Canada, the average consumption of meat is 137 pounds per capita per year. The average cosumption of fish is only nine pounds per capita per year.

The minister should be aware that he needs to do much more than adjust the price and improve the quality. What is required is an educational campaign to make the people of Canada acquainted with the value of fish as a nutritive food, to make them acquainted with new and tasty methods of preparing fish for the table and, above all, to acquaint the public generally with the proper method of keeping fish in good condition until it reaches the consumer.

For seafood has one peculiar quality; it has the faculty of arousing disgust and dislike if it is served even once in a stale or unpalatable manner.

There is no doubt that the careless and unimaginative way in which many people prepare fish has done more to decrease consumption than any other factor.

Few countries are so fortunate as Canada in the variety and quality of fish available.

It should be possible, then, to increase the consumption of it greatly if an educational campaign is intelligently carried out.

A Negro who served 21 years in a Pennsylvania prison for a crime it was proved at last he did not commit was turned out with a new suit and $5. One wonders if a white man, in similar circumstances, would have had that sort of treatment.

Britain Awakens to Crisis

BY FRANK B. WALKER

LONDON: Like a bad case of shock, the full effects of which are not felt until long after the accident, Britain appears to have awakened to the crisis confronting her.

Begining with Mr. Ernest Bevin's warning speech of July 27—"My God, working men and women, this is the first labor government you have got. Don't let it fail." Much fuller awareness has spread suddenly through the country though nothing new has occurred in the past few days to justify it.

Problems today are problems which have faced the nation for months. The manpower situation is neither more nor less serious than it has been; the dollar crisis is the same entity the coal shortage is the same shortage.

All this has been known, discussed and written about. Warnings have been given. Statistics have been quoted. Yet a strange and basic change has come. The words has had no efect. Now—and the parallel is fairly close—like 1940, both government and the great mass of ordinary people appear to realize danger.

It is too early to estimate how far this stabilization extends but certainly events in the past few days indicate that the period of "phoney peacetime" may be nearly over.

LONDON TODAY is full of rumors. They extend all the way from the resignation of Prime Minister Attlee to heavy cuts in the armed forces. These are all guesses, though neither of the two mentioned may be regarded as being close to the mark.

The armed forces issue has been raised again by the trades unions. The argument is simple and difficult to answer. What is the use of an enormous army with no industry to back it?

There is another noticeable and encouraging sign of a change of attitude. Ever since its election, the government has been dogged by fear of offending this or that group in the community, except, of course, the group represented by its political opponents.

Now at the eleventh hour it looks as though the government may ignore the prejudices of one or two vested interests and appeal over the heads of these interests to the vast majority of ordinary people.

Mr. Aneurin Bevan has done so on he housing question. The housing program has fallen down though a great deal has been done. One of the reasons for the failure has been the extraordinarily low rate of productivity among building workers.

BRICK LAYERS, FOR example, are working at a rate which some brick yards are being forced to shut down for lack of orders though need for bricks is as great as at any time in Britain's history. Now Mr. Bevan has come out for incentive pay. The man who works hard will get more and in doing so he has brushed aside deep union prejudice.

There will probably be more of this kind of thing for it is one of the anomalies of postwar Britain that with more work to be done than ever before and the life of the country depending upon increased production, fewer of labor have been getting shorter.

It has not been a straightforward matter of the working man doing less and getting more for it, but in vital bottleneck industries he has not been doing enough to pull the country through. Often he has not been able to do it because of shortages of material but it has not helped in cases where there has been material and he has not performed.

Mr. Bevin called for "two years of mighty effort.'

The vicious circle of industrial crisis must be broken by more production. You are in the vanguard there. If you were asked to work with greater energy now rather than borrow for your children to pay back over 20 years, I know that as fathers and mothers you would never saddle your children with that debt. You would go all out to do it now.

MR. BEVIN ASKED for coal production to be restored to the 1938 level. It is here that the issue lies with the ordinary people and it is to them the appeal is being made.

This week for the first time Britain appears to be nervous. It is the most hopeful sign possible. It can mean that a "mighty effort" is going to be made which alone can pull the country through.

This does not mean there will be immediate and spectacular changes over here. And it might possibly be more than a false alarm. But at any rate if it is, this is the first time the fire brigade has come out. It is not staying in the fire station while the firemen play cards.

Living Conditions Examined

BY LESLIE BISHOP

There is no doubt that the conditions under which many Canadian Indians are living today are deplorable. The medical evidence is conclusive on this point. One quotation from the special joint committee's proceedings will serve as typical.

DR. F. F. TISDALL, of Toronto, a nutrition expert who went back a generation short after visiting some of the Indians in northern Manitoba. He told the committee:

We went to Norway House in particular and made three trips in all . . . in 1941, 1942 and 1943. The majority of the indians we saw, according to our present day medical standards, were sick. They were not sick according to lay opinion but, when we examined them carefully from the medical standpoint, they had so many obvious evidences of malnutrition that if you or I were in the same condition, or we would demand hospitalization at once. We were struck, particularly in 1941, with the lack of vitality, of initiative, the indolence of these people. Physically, they shuffled about; they moved slowly. Even though we had to speak to many of them through an interpreter, it was obvious their mental processes were going on at a very slow pace.

We found in that particular band the TB death rate was just 50 times that of tuberculosis death rate among the white population of Manitoba. This raises a question far beyond the Indians because there is a focus of infection which is of concern to you and me. We can never control tuberculosis among the white population of Canada when we have a focus such as 50 times among those Indians. . . . . .

There were many other diseases which they contracted much more readily than would a person who was better fed; and they died from those diseases where the other person would not have died. In the Cross Lake band the infant mortality for one year—that is the number of babies who died under one year of age—reached a total of 500, compared to the figure last year of approximately 40 in the city of Toronto.

Inadequate diet was a large factor in producing these conditions. Dr. Tisdall and his companions found.

We believed they were sick primarily because their food was not above or part of the proper type to allow them to be healthy, he told the committee.

No less than 85 per cent of the calories they buy come from white flour, lard and sugar. These foods are almost entirely lacking in vitamins and are very deficient in minerals.

We found that where they should receive 900 milligrams of calcium a day, they were only receiving about 100 in the food they bought. The vitamin A consumption was, on one of around 5,000 units, but they were getting only 235. Consumption of thiamin, or one of the B vitamins, should have been around one and a half, but they got one-third of a milligram. As regards vitamin C, which we obtain from fresh fruits and vegetables and of which they should have received about 75, they were getting under 10.

We also found that in the past the Indians used to eat the insides, the liver and other parts of the animals and fish. Now, imitating the white man's custom, they clean the fish and throw away the articles of food which we know are rich in minerals and vitamins.

CLEARLY A BASIC necessity among Indian bands, living under conditions such as Dr. Tisdall described, is to improve their diet—or rather to teach them something of the science of nutrition, so that they will be enabled to make a wiser choice of foods now encouraged, wherever possible, to supply themselves with some of the vitamins they lack by growing vegetables.

Indeed, one of the most urgent requirements among Indian communities generally is for instruction in the basic principles of health. No one could give this instruction more effectively than the Indian teacher and the Indian nurse.

In this connection, it is interesting to know the comment of the Native Brotherhood of British Columbia:

It has been very difficult and in many instances impossible to get properly trained white teachers and nurses to live in isolated areas. An Indian girl, trained as a nurse, would feel quite at home at Kitamaat, for instance, whereas a white girl nurse finds the district far too isolated and dreary. This illustration is from actual experience.

Why should there not be an adequate supply of Indian nurses made available? With proper educational facilities this would soon be possible. The same applies to all branches of Indian education and social service.

Dr. P. E. Moore, director, Indian health services, told the committee, June 17:

The greatest progress that I have seen on any (Indian) reserves has been the result of enlisting nurses, who probably were spending more of their time on welfare work than on actual nursing. It is really the welfare side of the work that is important. I have seen differences that were apparent from work after even a year or so of the proper type of social welfare worker.

Smiles

A woman decided to have the shape of her nose altered. So she called on a beauty-surgeon.

"How much will you charge to alter the shape of my nose?" she asked.

"A hundred guineas, madam."

"A hundred guineas!" she exploded. Isn't there something less expensive?"

"Well," replied the surgeon, suavely, "you might try walking into a lamp-post."

"Heard about poor Mrs. Green's bad luck?" said Mrs. Blobbs over the fence.

"No, what is it?" asked Mrs. Nobbs, eagerly.

"Her husband's run away," said Mrs. Blobbs, gloatingly. "And what's more she's robbed her of every penny she had."

"Well I never!" gasped Mrs. Nobbs. "How dreadful! And she only married him because she was so scared of burglars!"

After a long talk on the value of peace, good will and disarmament, a Riverside teacher asked the class if they objected to war.

"Yes, sir, I do!" said one boy.

"Good! Now tell us why."

"Because," said the boy, "wars make history, and I hate history."

Professor's Tragedy

By ELMORE PHILPOTT

We have friendly arguments in our house about clothes — men's clothes. There is a strong Scottish strain in our family—but for some unknown reason it comes out only in the male side.

My son and I have a motto — what we have we hold.

When we get a suit, or a sweater or even a pair of corduroy pants we treat them as permanent. They have a job for life.

PHILPOTT

Now the females — who outnumber us three to two—fill take the other side. They like new clothes themselves (and how). But they are always pushing, prodding or goading us mere males to get new clothes too.

At least twice a year son's favorite pants get thrown into the garbage can. But always son manages to retrieve them in the nick of time.

NOT LONG AGO the females tried a new one. They sent me some nice new shirts. Even when the bill came along for dad the thrill had not worn off. The shirts were made of nice bright stuff, had open collars and all that.

But all is not gold that glitters—and everything new is not better than the old.

These new shirts have the buttons sewn on same new way. They do it by machine—and I am all for it IF the machine does good work.

But alas—progress has not yet reached the point where machine sewn buttons stay put. They have little annoying threads sticking out in front. As you put on your clean shirt you think "What's that end of thread doing?"

You give it a tug—and out comes the whole works—thread, button and all.

THERE IS ONE GUY I would gladly condemn to be shot at dawn. That is the fellow who insists that all mens' pants be equipped with pockets where good old-fashioned buttons used to be.

With buttons you always know where they are—and where you are.

But with zippers—you never know!

I KNOW A professor who is one of the brightest minds of the continent in his own line. But he too fell a victim to the zipper menace —or maybe he let his wife buy his new suit. He had the chance to get a better job at a bigger university at a lot more pay and with more prestige.

The colleges work those things a lot like they do in the church—that is they invite the prospective new professor around to do his stuff—much as churches ask the young minister to come and "preach for a call."

My professor friend was all set to do his very best. But at the last minute before he was to leave the hotel for his try-out, he too had zipper trouble.

The darn thing wouldn't zip. The harder he tried to make it zip the worse it got. Finally he rushed down the corridor and borrowed a safety pin. Then, before he used it, he gave one last try—and like the unpredictable mule—the zipper zipped perfectly.

The professor dashed for his taxi—only to meet the catastrophe that sealed his doom. The darn thing came unzipped again and he realized to his horror that he had left the safety pin behind!

The result was that he got there late and rattled—made a hash of his sample lecture and lost the job.

WE ALL KNOW the old story:

"For want of a nail a shoe was lost.
For want of a horse a rider was lost.
For want of a rider a battle was lost.
For want of a battle a kingdom was lost.
And all for the want of a horshoe nail."

We need a modernized version of that tale—about the menace of zippers that balk like mules.

OLD AGE PENSION

Editor, Bulletin—Much has been said and written recently relative to "Old Age Pensions" and the members of the federal house at Ottawa must really feel quite exhausted, due to the many hours spent in debating this question.

According to records, it did not take much discussion, or time, for the members of the house to vote themselves an increase of 50 per cent on their sessional indemnity, and, be it noted, "free of income tax" while months of debate eventually increased the Old Age Pension by a paltry five dollars per month.

This kind of legislation would be funny if the results were not so tragic, and as long as we send the class of men to Ottawa who were responsible for this comic opera kind of performance we must suffer such injustice.

It would be well if the worker, who at election time holds the majority vote remembers these things when next called upon to exercise the privilege of the franchise.

Incidentally we were informed through the columns of the press that this wonderful increase in the Old Age Pension would be retroactive to May 1st 1947, but the cheque received by the old people at least in Alberta, have at this date August 1st shown not a cent more.

To quote Lincoln's famous words "You can fool some of the people all the time" and he might have added "particularly Old Age Pensioners."

WEATHER FORECASTS

Editor, Bulletin: I have read with interest the question asked recently in your editorial column concerning the origin of weather forecasts for the Edmonton area. The Weather Office at the Edmonton airport issues all official forecasts for Alberta, the Peace River district and the western section of Saskatchewan. These are issued four times daily at 6 a.m., 11 a.m., 5 p.m., and 9 p.m.

The radio stations receive these forecasts over the press wire services within one hour of the time of issue and all of them copy these forecasts verbatim, leaving these forecasts to their listeners as soon as possible.

As many of the forecasts indicates that on the average, an unpredicted rainfall in the four hours immediately following the issuing of a forecast such as last Monday's occurs not more than once in every hundred forecasts. As the time passes beyond this four-hour period the number of errors increase proportionately and for this reason the Meteorological Division issue four new forecasts throughout the day. As the area for which the Edmonton Weather Office must forecast is large, it must be considered unfair to issue special forecast revisions unless there is a possibility of damage to crops, and in such cases special warnings are issued to the press wire services.

The frequency with which errors occur in forecasts can be partly explained by the number of important elements which go to make up the weather conditions. The four most important are wind, cloudiness, precipitation and temperature. Let any one of these deviate at all from the official forecast, even for a few minutes of the 36 hour period over which the forecast is made, and critics appear to point out the inadequacy of the weather "probs."

The prediction of rainfall in summer time is the most difficult task of the prairie weather forecaster but examination of this season's forecasts and those of last year's shows considerable improvement in the results obtained. Meteorologists are the last to claim that their forecasts can be relied on 100 per cent of the time. However, as experience is gained and our staff trained in new techniques, many of the puzzling situations in prairie weather will be understood. This cannot happen overnight as public weather service which commenced operation only sixteen months ago.

Business, aviation, and others who make regular and careful use of the Edmonton Weather Office forecasts praise their accuracy and dependability. Local radio stations have recently increased demands for an extension of the existing service. This alone indicates that is a dependable service while it lasts. At present there are more requests for forecast service than our Division can handle.

MENTALLY ILL

Editor, Bulletin: For many years now I have suffered from a mental malady and did have some psychiatric treatment but was unable to continue taking them due to the high prices charged by the psychiatrist who treated me. They gave me medicine which gave me great relief and the talks I had with the doctor also helped tremendously. Now, since discontinuing this I have fallen back to where I was before being treated and am steadily growing worse.

With a mental disease such as this it is very hard to take the small setbacks and knocks of life in a manner terrific effect on one's emotional stability.

Jailing people for being sick can in no righteousness in it. Why must we continue to fear from our minds before hospitalization and treatment can be obtained reasonably? By being up to date in our mental life so we can enjoy ourselves and become useful citizens again.

Please let me appeal to the press, radio, doctors and especially psychiatrists and other public-minded citizens to do something to help the mentally ill in their misfortune. Remember, too, that most sex crimes are committed by mentally abnormal people, and mental illness is something that can affect nearly every family.

Mercy-Killing Plea Rapped by Cardinal

LONDON, Aug. 4—(Reuters)—Bernard Cardinal Griffin, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Westminster, condemned "mercy killing" as "cold blooded murder on the part of those who bring it about and suicide on the part of the patients" in a talk to the Catholic Young Men's Society here Sunday. "You and I know, that according to the coroner's verdict most suicides take place while the person is of unsound mind," he said. "Thus it would seem, to talk of voluntary euthanasia is a complete misuse of terms. Of course, the term "mercy" may apply to the relatives of the patient, on the understanding that it would be a mercy to them if they did not have the trouble of looking after the sick persons."

Two Slav States Sign Agreement

BELGRADE, Aug. 4—(AP)—Marshal Tito and Bulgarian Premier Georgi Dimitrov, winding up three days of conferences, Saturday concluded a political, economic and social agreement under which Yugoslavia and Bulgaria will aid one another and work toward a full customs union.

Under the pact Yugoslavia renounces her rights to reparations from Bulgaria, totalling $25,000,000, granted in the peace treaties drafted in Paris.

A communique forecast establishment of close economic and political co-operation between the two states. Dimitrov left Saturday night for Sofia after his talks with Tito in the latter's summer palace at Bled.

Lives 26 Years Minus Opening Into Stomach

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 4—(AP)—Mickey Schuster, a furniture worker, did not want anyone outside his family to know he couldn't eat normally.

For 26 years he has been fed through a tube inserted in his stomach. He didn't tell anyone about even the girl he loved but never asked her to marry him because of it.

Now Mickey is willing to talk about it because Aug. 25, his 29th birthday, he will enter hospital for a rare esophagus operation which he hopes will cure him.

In 1921, Mickey, then 2½, accidently swallowed a can of lye. It seared the lining of his esophagus, closing it completely with scar tissue.

He went to school, played basketball, tennis and baseball and "dated" frequently. Still no one knew he was handicapped.

"You see," he explained today, "I can drink things and even chew food to get the taste out of it—but is just goes down so far."

SOLDIERS GROVE, Wis. Aug 4—(AP)—Mrs. Fred Scoville, 37, became a mother Saturday for the 18th time. A 9½-pound daughter was born to Mrs. Scoville and her husband, 40, at the farm home of the couple.

Reds "Take Wraps" Off Jet Aircraft

MOSCOW, Aug. 4—(AP)—Prime Minister Stalin and the military attaches of many foreign countries watched with interest Sunday as the Soviet government took the wraps off Russian jet planes for the first time at an air show here on the Soviet Aviation Day. Many new Russian jet models participated in the show and flew past the capacity crowd at Moscow's air field at top speed. Stalin stood for 2½ hours in a hot sun to watch the show. The most important aspect of the show was the demonstration of Russian progress in jet plane propulsion. In the 1946 show, one jet plane was shown. Sunday dozens of planes of several different models were flown.

Ellis Clouts Two-Run Homer

S. Side Squeeze Play Edges Maple Leafs 5-4

Walter Johnson's Maple Leafs can't win behind their ace righthander, Dick Lowe. Yesterday at Clarke Stadium it was South Side's turn to clip the young farmer—this time by a 5-4 count. But the Scona ball-hawks had to come crashing from behind just before the string ran out to do it.

A second game—Canadians vs CNR—was billed to round out the afternoon. However, when "Play Ball" echoed across the infield Ken McAuley's big red team was comprised of seven players, and a bat boy. According to Abner Doubleday's rules the CNR team was awarded the contest 9-0 by default.

In an ensuing exhibition game Tommy McGregor chucked the Canucks to an 8-0 triumph over the Calder freighthers. In five innings Tommy held CNR hitless and se smashed out the only hit of the proceedings—a triple with a mate aboard in the second. A flock of walks and as many passed balls allowed Canadians to walk away with the lackadaisical exhibition.

BUT BACK to South Side and the blueshirts.

The Leafs vaulted ahead in the second frame with a four run blast. Steve Waluk, Benny Grabow, Wally Laubman, and Jimmy Stewart all got to "Kelly" Callahan on the Scona slab for solid bingles. A single error assisted the Leafs to coast to what had the earmarks of being a comfortable margin.

It looked as though the husky Callahan and his mates were on the rope—and that Lowe would slide home with an easy conquest. It was unfortunate for Lowe that South Side had other ideas.

They came scrambling back with a quartet of runs in the fourth inning. Don Wingfield sliced a single to right to lead off the attack. He sped home via Dave Ellis' healthy home run to centre. Big Dave just naturally caught a change of pace fast ball on the outside and leaned into it for a four-base drive.

BOB COUGHLIN continued the South Side pepper-pot when Lowe after one was out. He smacked a single to right, and then toured the bags courtesy of Callahan's booming triple to centre. Callahan tied the count at four-all when backstop Wally Laubman heaved the pellet into left field in attempting to catch Kelly off third base.

South Side won it all very smartly in the sixth. Don Wynn led off with a clean single to left. He stumbled into second when Wally Laubman overthrew the keystone on the steal. Wynn and second-baseman Jimmy Stewart got all tangled up on the play. When the dust lifted field umpire John Lupul ruled interference on Stewart's part and awarded Wynn third base unmolested.

THEN CALLAHAN laid down a perfect bunt, and Wynn scooted across handily on the squeeze. It was as simple as that.

Callahan whiffed eight hitters and Lowe struck out an even half dozen.

Score by innings:

Maple Leafs	040	000	0—4	8	4
South Side	000	401	x—5	9	1

Lowe and Laubman; Callahan and Coughlin.

CNR	0	00	00—0	0	3
Canadians	1	22	3x—8	1	0

Snell, Crocker (4), and Emberg; McGregor and Ringrose.

Given New Auto, But Can't Drive

CHICAGO, Aug. 4.—(AP)—It looks as if Johnny Schmitz, Chicago Cub southpaw, will have to learn to drive an automobile.

A delegation of 500 neighbors from Wausau, Wis., honored Schmitz in a homegalate ceremony before Sunday's Cub-Dodger game, presenting him with a new sedan. What they didn't know was that Schmitz had never learned to drive.

He'll start taking lessons today.

Combined Team from Prairies

Canadian Cricketers Start Tourney Today

TORONTO, Aug. 4.—(CP)— Canada's top cricketers were assembled here last night preparing for the biggest cricket tourney ever held in the Dominion, first major event in a three-year plan to develop a first class Canadian eleven for a trip to England in 1949.

Making up four great sectional teams, Quebec, Ontario, the prairies and British Columbia, the interprovincial tournament opening Monday will run until Saturday. Last of the teams to arrive was that of British Columbia, whose players arrived by air Saturday after one of the longest plane trips ever made by an athletic organization.

THE PRAIRIE team consists of players from Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta. The Ontario and Quebec teams are also strong aggregations from well-established clubs but critics who have watched the teams in practice have established British Codumbia as slight favorites.

Two matches will be played each day, the schedule calling for each team to play each other team twice, the national championship going to the team with the most points at the finish.

NOTABLE FEATURE is that so many of the players learned the game in Canada. Some of the expected stars, such as Bill Drever of Edmonton, Jack Adams of British Columbia and Allan Percival of Ontario are also well-known on the hockey rinks and as all-round athletes.

Play starts at 11 a.m. each day with intervals for lunch and tea before close at 7 p.m. Each game is a one-inning affair and if games are incomplete at close of play points will be divided.

The Schedule:

Aug. 4 ..... Ontario vs Quebec; Prairies vs B.C.
Aug. 5 ..... Quebec vs Prairies; B.C. vs Ontario.
Aug. 6 ..... Ontario vs Prairies; B.C. vs Quebec.
Aug. 7 ..... B.C. vs Quebec; Ontario vs Prairies.
Aug. 8 ..... B.C. vs Prairies; Ontario vs Quebec.
Aug. 9 ..... Ontario vs B.C.; Quebec vs Prairies.

Games will start at 11 a.m. and continue until 12.45 p.m., and then resume at 2 p.m.

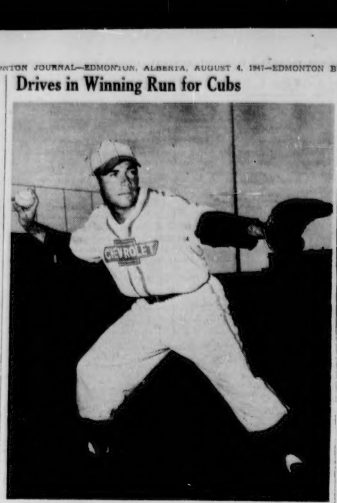
Drives in Winning Run for Cubs



Ralph DeMarco, shortstop for Cubs, finished off the eighth inning operation started by Tony Chulla at Renfrew Park Sunday afternoon and which netted Laurel Harney's crew four runs, sufficient to stop Calgary Buffaloes 4-3. DeMarco's single drove in Cliff Johnston with the winning counter, Johnston's double which set two Cub runs over the plate, followed Dawson's hit which had scored Chulla. DeMarco also tossed out two Buffaloes in the top of the ninth.

Hot Tricks by Birmingham Parsons

Army and Navy Scores Convincing Soccer Win

Army and Navy Vets ran away with the soccer action at Clarke Stadium Saturday night, walloping South Side Legion 7-1. Dennis Birminghm and Ken Parsons cracked the heavy scoring whip for the winners when they booted three goals apiece through the uprights.

The vets were never headed. They were sifted through the Legion defense for four points in the first half, and followed up with a trio of goals after the changeover. Kruper saved South Side from a complete whitewashing with a solo effort in the last minute of the game.

DENNIS BIRMINGHAM scored the first two Vets' counters on ganging attacks. Parsons, patrolling inside left for the winners, kicked the third Army and Navy counter. And then, with five minutes to play in the half, Birmingham made it 4-0 by scoring his third goal of the piece.

Army and Navy kept rolling in the second canto. Green, playing left half, scooted through for a point in the early going. Midway in the period Green got hotter than a firecracker and smacked a pair of points past Waugh in the Legion cage.

Seconds from the final bell Kruper saved South Side from complete oblivion with a close-in drive that left the final tally at 7-1.

As a game the fixture had too much for Army and Navy and too little South Side attacking strength. Steve Olander played brilliantly at left back for the winners, bolstering the defense against any offensive spark the Legion could muster.

SOUTH SIDE LEGION: Waugh; Frew, Smitten; Gulliver, Kruper, Laverie, Dr. Bruce; A. Russel, Riding, Partridge, Scott.

ARMY AND NAVY: Singleton; Peters, Olander; Chambers, Mason, Green, Hall, Birmingham, D. Birmingham, Parsons, Dominy.

Ferrier "Piping Hot" To Tie Haas in Open

ST. PAUL, MINN., Aug. 4—(AP)—Firing birdies on the 12th, 13th and 17th holes and dropping an eagle three on the 18th for a six-under par 66, Jim Ferrier Sunday gained a tie with Fred Haas, jr., at the end of the fourth round of play in the St. Paul open golf.

Ferrier, a Chicagoan, and Haas, from New Orleans, will play off the tie over 18 holes today.

Both players shot eagles on the last green. Ferrier got his by dropping an 18-foot putt while Haas sank a 15-footer.

John Barnum of Chicago became low amateur of the tourney, shooting a 68 Sunday for a 276 total. He started the day's play with 206, and landed in fourth place.

BOBBY LOCKE, South African champion who is leading money winner of the North American summer circuit, shot a 71 Sunday for a 283 total giving him a tie for 17th and 18th money with Dr. Cary Middlecoff of Memphis.

Lew Worsham, Pittsburgh pro, shot a par 72 to finish just behind Ferrier and Haas. Worsham started with 202 Sunday morning.

Haas and Ferrier will split first and second money, giving each $1,700. Receipts from the gate during the playoff will go to them, with the winner recognized as the titlist.

Cubs Stop Buffaloes Twice at Week-End

Chulla Starts Four Run Rally In Rubber Tilt

Cubs tripped the league-Buffaloes twice to gain the odd of three Big Four Baseball League game played at Renfrew Park during the week-end.

Laurel Harney's charges took the first half of Saturday's doubleheader 2-0 and after dropping the evening encounter 7-2, bounced back with a 4-3 triumph Sunday afternoon by chasing four runs across in the eighth frame.

Still with two games to go, the six-game series as far is a sawoff for Cubs and Calgarians, both clubs having won two. The re-arranged schedule called for a session at 3 o'clock this afternoon and another tonight, both of these as well as the Saturday afternoon affair being Buffalo home games transferred to Edmonton.

SUNDAY'S FIXTURE produced the bulk of the drama and it was all packed into the bottom half of the eighth. Cubs had collected only four hits off Ray Humble prior to the explosion and with two in the inning and a three-run lead to operate, the marking up of victory for smooth-working Cubs appeared to be a mere formality.

Superstein flied out to O'Connor to start the frame and O'Connor threw out Sullivan at first. Tony Chulla was next up and lifted a short fly to right field. It looked to be a fairly easy catch for someone but the ball dropped safely with Uffieman, Sheppard and Dann all in the immediate vicinity.

HUMBLE HAD trouble getting the ball over for Lippincott and the Cub catcher walked. And then things happened fast.

Dawson slashed a single into centre scoring Chulla, who had just stolen second, and Cliff Johnston pounded a double against the right field wall, sending in both Lippincott and Dawson to tie the count at 3-3. Ralph DeMarco then picked out a fast ball pitch and slapped the ball into left bringing in Johnston with the winning run.

LEO SULLIVAN had little trouble setting the Buffs down on top of the ninth. Work went out DeMarco to Lane. Sullivan then hit Peranin, but he struck out Bradley, pinch-hitting for Dann. DeMarco also took care of Humble's ground ball and tossed the Calgary pitcher out at first.

All three of the Buffalo runs also were earned. Successive hits by O'Connor, Sheppard and Gibson netted two in the third after Petrunia had driven in Uffieman, who had doubled in the second.

A SHUTTING OUT for Buffaloes 2-0 with a two-hitter Saturday afternoon, John Bass was good all the way with a pair of Calgarians got as far as third base—O'Connor in the first inning and Gilbert in the fifth.

Sheppard made second base in the opening canto on his first hit and a fielder's choice as Uffleman was being tossed out. "Shep" singled again in the fourth for Calgary's second hit of the afternoon.

The only other Buffaloes to reach first got there by being hit —Gibson in the fourth and he fell victim to a double play and Petrunia in the eighth and Bass picked the Buff receiver off first a few seconds later. Bass never issued any bases on balls.

Hits by Johnston, Lane (a double), Clovechok and Superstein produced the two runs for Cubs in the second frame.

THE SATURDAY night game was a drab affair with neither team displaying much in the way of baseball or spirit. Jock Stover pitched carefully, but he issued one error and his team-mates six more.

One of the Cub runs was earned. Chulla doubling in the fifth, going to third on Dawson's hit and home as Masikewich was being thrown out at first. Two Calgary errors figured in the first inning tally. Cubs had the bases full in the sixth with nobody out.

Frann, starting pitcher for the Cubs, was hit freely, all 10 hits and six of the seven runs collected by the Buffaloes being made off him. Curry took over in the seventh after Uffieman opened with a single and he walked four. He forced in one run and another came in on an error.

Mannville Leads Fastball Series

MANNVILLE, Aug. 4.—Three close games featured the afternoon yesterday at Mannville as a trio of intermediate ladies teams battled it out for the northern Alberta crown.

In the first tussle of the day Mannville's Bluebirds flew past Mike Panchyn's South Side foes by a 4-2 count. South Side bounced back in the second fixture to edge Sirome 5-4. And in the final contest Mannville clipped the Sirome lassies via the 3-2 route.

The round robin series continues through today with South Side playing Sirome for the right to meet the Bluebirds in the finals.

Paging Mr. Ripley!

Best Ball of Five Under Fails to Win Single Hole

Alec Olynyk, professional at the Highlands golf course, and Bob Kidd, one of the city's leading juniors, think they have something which may be of interest to Ripley of "Believe It Or Not."

Playing the Martell brothers, Burns and Henry, in an Eaton Rose Bowl match yesterday, Alec and Bob fired a five-under par best ball, didn't win a hole, and lost the match 4 and 3.

THE REASON, OF COURSE, was that the Martells had a nine under par best ball and they matched every birdie the challengers tossed at them.

Henry was the hottest of the quartet with a 67. Burns carded a 70 and their opponents each had 72's.

There were three birdies on the first hole, Henry getting a par. Burns sank a putt from the apron of the green for the half and his birdie four on the fourth put his side one up. Bob Kidd canned a 25-footer for a birdie on the sixth, only to have Henry bang down a 20-footer for a half.

HENRY'S BIRDIE ON THE EIGHTH was good enough for a win and they made the turn two up. Henry got the only birdie on the 11th, the Martells and Kidd birdied the 13th and Burns holed a ten-footer for a birdie on the 15th.

Henry, who will leave on Wednesday with the rest of the Willingdon Cup team for the Dominion championship in Quebec City, played spectacular golf all the way. He had only one 5 during his sub-par round.

Cubs Claw Brooklyn Thrice in Chicago

CHICAGO, Aug. 4—(AP)—If Brooklyn Dodgers want to further increase their lead atop the National League, it would be a good idea for them to secure the services of a rainmaker every time they're due to play the Cubs in Chicago.

The Chicagoans yesterday made it three straight victories over the Brooks with a 6-0 decision behind the seven hit pitching of Johnny Schmitz.

Ralph Branca held the Cubs to a single until a four-hit outbreak produced three Chicago runs in the fifth. Branca fell apart in the seventh, issuing a walk and hitting Ed Waitkus with a pitched ball. Reliefer Hal Gregg walked another before Phil Cavaretta singled to send two home and the Cubs added another in the eighth.

Schmitz, presented with a new automobile before the game by the homefolks of Wausau, Wis., allowed only three hits in the first seven innings, then loosened up with two in the eighth and one in the ninth.

AT PITTSBURGH, Hank Greenberg's third home run of the day and his second of the nightcap, gave the Pirates a 6-6 tie with New York after the Giants won the first game 11-8. The second contest was called at the end of eight innings because of Pennsylvania's Sunday curfew law.

In the National League's other doubleheader, Boston Braves defeated Cincinnati 4-3 in the opener to snap Ewell Blackwell's string of consecutive complete games pitched at 13, while the Reds walked away with the afterpiece, 6-1.

Ted Wilks checked a four-run uprising in the eighth inning as St. Louis and Murry Dickson halted another threat in the ninth to save the game for Ken Burkhardt in the Cardinals' 10-8 triumph over Fred Schmidt and the Philadelphia Phillies. Going into the Phillies' half of the eighth, the Cards led 8-2.

OVER IN THE American League, Larry (Yogi) Berra's long fly to centre with the bases loaded in the ninth scored Bob Brown with the winning run as New York Yankees shaded Cleveland Indians 5-4.

Allie Reynolds, former Indian, went the route to gain his 13th victory for the league-leaders.

Clubbing five Boston pitchers for 16 hits, Detroit Tigers trounced the Red Sox 10-3 for Letty Hal Newhouser's 11th triumph. He was aided by Hoot Evers' two-run homer.

The second place Sox now trail New York by 13½ games and are only ½ game ahead of the third-rung Tigers.

At Philadelphia, St. Louis Browns overcame a three-run deficit to take a 4-3 decision in the second game and gain an even break with the Athletics who won the opener 3-0 behind Ontario-born Phil Marchildon who allowed eight hits but was tight in the clutches.

ROUNDING OUT the junior circuit, Frank Papish scattered seven hits to defeat Washington Senators 3-1 and capture his ninth victory for Chicago White Sox. It was Chicago's 13th victory in 18 games with the Senators.

Legionnaires Beat Precision

RCAF Aces Fly High To Cut Cakes by 14-4

Legionnaires scored three runs in the first frame of their fastball tussle with Precision Machine at Kingsway yesterday and then hung on long enough to edge the Machinery gang 4-2. In the second half of the twin bill RCAF Aces iced Dainty Cakes 14-4.

EMERY LONG, Ross MacBeth, Ralph Hansch, and Ed Waring poked hits through the infield as the Legionnaires drove for a trio of counters in the first inning. A passed ball and an error helped send the three runs across.

Precision got back into the running with a brace of runs in the sixth inning. Bercha walked to start it off, and he ambled home when Casey followed with a triple to left. Doug Herbert singled to send Casey home.

Long's single, a stolen base, and error, and MacBeth's single through the centre scored the last Legionnaire run in the seventh. Jim Malone pitched three-hit ball for the winners.

The RCAF Aces flew high, wide, and handsome chasing Sammy Sheckter's Dainty Cakes out of the park with a 14-4 shellacking in the second game.

The airmen nailed eight runs to the mast in the first three stanzas and that meant the ball game. Hyrnew, Lamay, Dent, and Villeneuve paced the RCAF attack with two hits each, Jerry Searight collected the same number of baseknocks for the losers.

Ted Filipowicz chucked six-hit ball on the Ace mound and he whiffed a half-dozen bakers.

Bobby Doerr Sox Captain Given "Night"

BOSTON, Aug. 4.—(AP)—Bobby Doerr, field captain of Boston Red Sox who came to the American League champions in 1937 as a rookie and is the club's veteran in point of service at 29, was given a "night" Saturday night.

Before the game with Detroit Tigers, the popular Bobby was presented:

A BOOK AUTOGRAPHED by every American League player, members of the Sox staff and local baseball writers and radio men; a heavy four-door sedan from the Red Sox Baseball Club; a 5,000-watt power generating unit from Mr. and Mrs. Tom Yawkey, (club owner) a 16-horsepower outboard motor from the Red Sox players; a red leather chair and foot stool from the Sox office staff; a leather travelling clock from the clubhouse boys; a fitted travelling case from trainer Win Green and friends.

FROM THE FANS came these gifts:

Sterling service for 12; a one-ton truck to be shipped to Bobby's mink ranch in Blahe, Ore.; a tractor fully equipped; a set of mink; a portable overseas radio from "Megaphone Lolly" Hopkins of Providence, R. I. (who attends every Boston home game) and her FRIENDS; a juke box with records; a portable bowling alley; a three-position chair and ottoman; automatic blanket; bronze clock and barometer; three worsted suitings; a solid gold bracelet for his world series wrist watch; a solid gold razor.

A $2,500 mink stole was promised Mrs. Doerr, who was given a bouquet by Steve O'Neil, Tiger manager.

Eddie Shore Sells Interest in Club

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Aug 4.—(AP)—Sale by Eddie Shore of his half interest in the San Diego club of the Pacific Coast Hockey League to the Buffalo club of the American League was announced here Sunday.

The Buffalo Club will supply San Diego players for the coming season and Shore is expected to take his last year's team, together with some Pacific Coast players from Seattle, to Schiefield, Mass., of the American League and Fort Worth, Tex., of the United States League. He holds an interest in both.

Biting Fish Wages War on Swimmers

BEAVERTON, Ont., Aug. 4.—(CP)—Is it news when fish bites man? Residents on Thorah Island in Lake Simcoe swear there's a bass who bites unsuspecting bathers invading his "private" waters.

After swimmers were bitten, the bathing fraternity here ganged the fish, catching and transporting the bass to another part of the lake. But before long (they say) the bass returned to its former haunts, resuming his "trespassers unwanted" action.

Nitrogen bacilli in the ocean liberate nitrogen from compounds and thereby return it to the atmosphere.

Why Grow Old?

A lovely complexion such as Actress Rosalind Russell's is a condition brought about by a knowledge and practice of a scientific, well-balanced diet.

By Josephine Lowman

Our complexions reflect our general condition to a remarkable degree. The food we consume also plays an important role in skin beauty. If the body is well nourished with a scientifically balanced diet, which leads to good nutrition and splendid elimination, the skin is apt to be clear, blooming and free of blemishes.

There are certain foods which seem to be guilty of causing difficulty for many persons. Chocolate, as much as we love it, when indulged in to excess may cause eruptions for women. Greasy foods are difficult to digest and should be eliminated from the diets of women who suffer from oily complexions, which may lead to blackheads and pimples.

The way we eat not only affects enjoyment and vital living but is reflected in our complexions as well as our health. Research indicates that an adequate amount of milk may increase life expectancy and certainly adde to the bloom of complexion and life. Lots of fresh fruits and vegetables, greens and lean meat, milk and whole grain products, eggs and citrus fruits, add up to the healthful living. Cut out the rich, greasy, highly seasoned foods, lower your carbohydrate intake, breathe deeply, exercise, sleep enough and eat smaller amounts so you never feel "stuffed," that is the prescription for beauty and health.

The prescription sounds so simple and yet when we take into consideration modern social life, with its canapes, whatnots, whipped cream and irregular hours, one almost appears to be eccentric if he or she attempts to live hygienically. I do not know what the answer is, unless you decide that you prefer vital living, a sense of well being, a lovely complexion and humor, instead of conforming to the bad habits your friends might have.

After all, we can blame it all on allergies! If you do not feel that your diet allows certain items when you are with friends, just say you are allergic to it and no one can talk back! In fact, you will be telling the truth because most women are allergic, so far as weight is concerned, to whipped cream, pies, cakes, bonbons, fried foods and butter.

DOROTHY DIX says:

Should Stand By Maimed Husband

Dear Miss Dix: My sister-in-law and I have had a discussion on a matter upon which we cannot agree. She claims that when a man comes home from the war maimed, it is the duty of his wife to support and take care of him for the balance of his life, and that if she really loves him she will do this.

I claim that if a husband really loves his wife, he will not want her to ruin her life by spending the balance of it caring for a hopeless cripple, and knowing he will no longer be able to support her, he will show his true love for her by giving her up. What is your opinion?

IN-LAWS

Answer: Your sister-in-law is right. Any wife who could turn her back on her husband who has been maimed fighting for his country and lo keep women safe in their homes, must not only have a heart that is as hard as stone, but she must be utterly lacking in patriotism and all sense of duty and moral responsibility.

SHE BREAKS her marriage vows because she swore at the altar, before God and man, that she took her husband for better or worse, through sickness or health, and she is a despicable quitter if she casts him aside for no other reason than that he is unable to work and support her.

No wife who really loved her husband would forsake him in his hour of misfortune. If she had anything noble and generous in her nature, it would call all the tenderness and pity in her, and the more helpless he was and the more help, the more she would give him.

Many thousands of men have come home from the war so maimed that they will never be able to be great money-makers. Let us hope that few of them have wives so sordid that they will desert them because they are no longer able to support them in the style to which they have been accustomed.

Dear Dorothy Dix: Do you believe it possible for a woman to love a man and yet hate everything he stands for? I love a married man to such a point that I can hardly stand to be away from him, and I am planning to marry him as soon as his divorce comes through. But apparently he possesses no scruples, nor any fine principles of character, and I detest the work he is in.

Do you think what I feel for him is love, or infatuation?

P. D. B.

Answer: Physical infatuation, I should say. Also, I should warn you that it won't last. Marriage will soon cure it and then you will wonder what made you do it.

NO LOVE LASTS that isn't founded on respect. It is vital to a wife to be able to admire her husband, to look up to him, and when she is ashamed of him and sees him doing mean, underhanded things that revolt her, she comes to have a contempt for him that kills her affection.

Dear Miss Dix: We cannot have any children and I want to adopt a little baby girl. My husband works at night and sleeps all day and I am so lonesome. Don't you think he should let me adopt the little girl I want so badly?

A WIFE

Answer: If your happiness depends upon it, I think he should, and the chances are that he will get as much pleasure out of the adopted child as you will. Most foster parents seem almost foolishly fond of the children they adopt and get a great joy out of them.

Edmonton Pastor At Danish Meet

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 4—(CP)—W. C. Smalley of Edmonton, presiding at a discussion meeting at the Baptist World Congress here, said Sunday:

"No state or church has the right to come between an individual and his God."

General secretary of the Baptist Union of Canada, Smalley said there was evidence that the freedom for which our fathers gave their lives is in danger on both sides of the Atlantic . . .

"Where the state dominates, the church passes under state control to the detriment of both state and church."

Smalley said the congress was a "practical demonstration" of freedom and co-operation since no church or state compelled the delegates to attend.

"Baptists preach freedom, not anarchy. We believe in both the freedom and lordship of Christ," he said.

Blast Explodes In Miner's Face

CALGARY, Aug. 4—(CP)—Seriously injured Friday when a mine charge exploded in his face at Kimberley, B.C., 21-year-old Fred Miles was reported "greatly improved" in hospital here last night. Miles was driven more than 200 miles to Calgary after doctors examined him early Friday. It is not known whether he will lose his sight. His face, neck and shoulders were also injured. The explosion occurred when Miles investigated a charge he fired which had failed to explode.

Bridge

By William E. McKenney

ASHEVILLE, N.C., where the Southern Appalachian Tournament of the American Contract Bridge League will be held Aug. 22, 23, and 24, has some outstanding players.

Mrs. J. E. Follme who is Life Master No. 51, is a resident of Asheville during part of each year. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Gross also are well-known tournament players. Few players get a bigger "kick" out of unusual play than Murray Gross does. I played against him in Florida last spring and today's hand came up. I am forced to admit that Gross gave me a bottom score with the play he made.

Most of the other pairs in the room reached the same contract but East and West cashed only three rounds of clubs. East refused to continue his fourth club because he did not want to give declarer a sluff and a ruff.

However, when Gross played against me, he continued the fourth club, and there was no way to keep West from making the queen of spades. I discarded the ten of diamonds and hoped that West did not have the queen—but he did, and I was down one.

Murray's explanation of his play as simple and accurate. He knew that West, his partner, had only one or two spades, because declarer had bid and rebid spades, showing at least a five-card suit, and there were four in dummy.

Therefore, if West held an honor, he would not make it except on the fourth club. He reasoned that the discard and ruff would accomplish nothing, as declarer probably had all the rest of the tricks—which was correct.

Hail Damage Said Heavy in Alberta

Though hail damage in some areas in Southern Alberta has been heavy, Edmonton sources both in the department of agriculture and the Prairie Farm Assistance Act offices would not comment on the amount of damage nor the extent of it, on Monday morning.

"Fifty per cent more claims have been received this year than for the same period in 1946," J. Glen Elder, manager of the Alberta Hail Insurance Board, Calgary, reported Friday. No offices of the board are maintained in Edmonton and A. M. Wilson, field crops commissioner, pointed out that the number of claims made did not necessarily indicate the damage caused by hail, since all farmers are not insured.

Both Mr. Wilson and officials in the PFA office mentioned that heavy hail damage had occurred in the Vegreville district as well as in some areas north of Edmonton, but said no official pronouncement could yet be made.

Your Baby and Mine

By Mildred Meyer Eldred

The very mention of spanking always brings a flurry of letters. Parents resent being made to feel guilty when they chastise their children in the time-honored way. Yet, it is proper to think through this big subject personally. Each parent knows his own weaknesses, his own quick temper as well as his children's reactions. Parents are far better able to judge whether spanking is doing good or ill, bettering their children's behavior or making them sullen and resentful.

Here is a mother who finds it beneficial. I am happy to print her opinion.

"Many of your ideas I have used and many others I try to practice because I believe them to be sound. My baby is nine months old. Beginning at eight months I said, 'No, no,' for simple things like pulling my necklace. Because she persisted I spanked her hands and said, 'No, no.' I looked right into her eyes. Now, when she reaches for things she watches me. When I say, 'No!' she stops. I have saved her many a tumble by telling her no and having her stop until I could get to her. It saves my nerves, too.

"I have four children under five. This early discipline worked with all of them. We spank before we get angry and the older ones we always give another chance to be good. Then we act as if nothing had happened. To me the attitude of the parent is all important. It is hard to remember that spanking should benefit the child and not be a 'pay off.'

"We surely enjoy our children, too. They are so happy and mischievous and full of health. It would be hard for me to try another method, when often it is obvious that they want to know 'if ever' and 'when' you are going to spank them. I have seen many adorable children in this state of confusion.

"My husband and I think the trick is in little spankings for little errors for little tots. We thus command their respect. Thus our 5-year-old doesn't need spankings. She now pays attention if we give her attention. I don't believe in criticizing unless you have something better to offer. I wish I could memorize your articles; we mothers discuss child-training so often and you state things so well."

Patricia Elaine Dalley, one-year-old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dalley of 10649 95 Street.

Thank you so much. YOUR ATTITUDE is what makes your punishment the trivial thing it is. But all spankings are not trivial nor given in the same spirit. They do leave ugly marks and develop a hate of all authority in the child. Also, if they don't work and the child doesn't behave, what do you do then? You've, in a sense, "shot your wad." You've been successful and so haven't met that challenge, which all spanking parents should consider first.

Myrtle Meyer Eldred's leaflet No. 75, "Obedience and Discipline", may be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Myrtle Eldred, Editor in care of The Edmonton Bulletin.

Edmonton Artist Cleaning Portraits

Portraits of royalty and of distinguished Albertans hanging in the Legislative Buildings are now undergoing cleaning and brightening under the direction of Mrs. P. B. Mortimer, Edmonton artist.

There are 41 paintings in the collection and they hang in the corridors and the assembly chamber of the buildings where the Alberta legislators once held their offices.

Only former provincial premiers whose portraits have not yet been hung are those of Herbert Greenfield, J. E. Brownlee and B. G. Reid, who held office from 1921 to 1935 when the United Farmers of Alberta held office. Premier Ernest Manning, present head of the government, is not represented since the pictures do not include those now in office. However a life-size portrait of Premier William Aberhart, original leader of the Social Credit party, is included.

Mrs. Mortimer reports that most of the pictures are in good shape, though it has been necessary for many of the frames to be re-gilded and patched up.

"It's been a real pleasure to meet some of the men of whom I have heard so much," she laughed. She knew many of the men whose portraits she has renewed she says.

After washing the pictures in a special soap mixture, Mrs. Mortimer varnishes them, bringing out the original colors.

The Book of Knowledge

This and the following articles are taken from the Book of Knowledge and can be clipped for saving in a reference book.

THE STORY OF THE CIRCUS

The name "circus" goes back to the days of ancient Rome. The Roman circus was a huge race - course and chariot races were held. It also was the scene of sham fights on horseback, athletic games and, at certain times, of wild-animal fights and combats between gladiators.

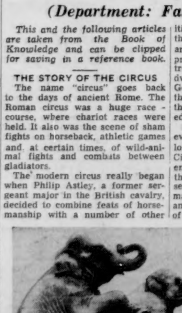
The modern circus really began when Philip Astley, a former sergeant major in the British cavalry, decided to combine feats of horsemanship with a number of other features. This show, which reached its full development about 1780, was staged in the Ampitheatre Riding House near London. Astley was invited to Paris by the French Queen, Marie Antoinette. Astley and his son gave performances which delighted the French people. Thereafter the circus spread rapidly all over Europe.

The first circus to come to America was that of the Englishman, Thomas Pool, in the year 1785. Other circuses followed. By 1820, as many as thirty were wandering through the eastern states.

These early circuses would seem a step indeed by modern standards. They generally consisted of a couple of wagons, four horses, a half dozen performers and a clown. They performed on any vacant lot that was available.

No one did more to make the circus the gigantic spectacle it is today than the famous American showman, Phineas T. Barnum. In 1841, Barnum became the owner of the American Museum in New York. When he acquired it, it was a storehouse of relics and curiosities. He so transformed it that, for the next thirty years, it was the amusement center of New York. He provided jugglers, educated dogs, trained fleas, fat boys, giants and dwarfs, including the famous dwarf General Thumb. The burning of the museum building put an end to the enterprise; and Barnum decided to retire from show business.

He was too active a person, however, to remain in retirement very long. In April, 1871, P.T. Barnum's Circus, Menagerie and Museum opened in Brooklyn. This circus was the largest that the world had ever seen. There were feats of horsemanship, flying trapeze artists, wild animal acts. There were battalions of clowns.



Circus elephants doing their act. Elephants are among the most dependable animal performers and have long been a feature of circuses. The most famous of all was Jumbo, brought to the United States by P. T. Barnum in the 1880's and billed as the largest in the world.

In 1880, Barnum combined the circus with another show, the guiding spirit of which was James A. Bailey. The new show became known as Barnum and Bailey.

Chief among the attractions was the most famous of all elephants, Jumbo. It was billed as the largest in the world. It had been the property of the London zoo and had been sold to Barnum for $10,000. He caused more excitement than P. T. Barnum was heartbroken at leaving the children of London. Soon all England was protesting the loss of Jumbo's departure, and even Queen Victoria is said to have joined the protest. When Barnum finally brought Jumbo to the United States, the huge elephant created a sensation wherever it was exhibited.

Barnum died in 1891, and Bailey took over the management of the circus. Since that time, circuses have gradually combined to form ever larger groups.

Only the Strong

DAWSON CREEK. — The big road to Alaska is a heartbreak highway these days. Americans by the hundreds are heading north, looking for easy money and adventure, and all along the route we've seen them foundering against the harsh realities of the north.

The American newspapers and magazines have been criminal in their stories. They've made Alaska seem a romantic new frontier and a land of unlimited opportunity. It is nothing of the sort.

A few days ago when my wife and I were in Fairbanks we paid a visit to the mayor, A. H. Nordale, a prosperous, impeccably dressed hotel owner.

"People are coming in here by droves without jobs or houses or enough money to tide them over," he told us. "In the States there seems to be an idea that anybody at all can find work at high wages in Alaska. These people are woefully misguided. Many of them have put all their money into the trip and find that we have nothing for them."

Construction workers for the program of airfields and other military installations are hired almost exclusively in the States and they are highly skilled men. Yet on our trip north we've met dozens of Americans, many of them with their families, under the impression that they'll find "easy picking" at the end of the road.

"We have no way of letting those people know that they are risking everything," Mayor Nordale told us. "The outside writers who visit us seldom give anything more than a colorful picture of boom towns. There are literally hundreds of people who make the long, expensive journey up the highway and discover in one day what they could easily learn by writing to us. It is a pathetic waste of time and money. Alaska is prospering, but there are definite limitations to the number and kind of men we can absorb—and there are no homes at all."

The Procession

In our trip up the Alaska Highway and back here to its beginning we have seen this crazy parade of adventurers, many of them young men with the scrubby beginnings of beards, others wearing fancy checked shirts, carrying sheath knives and wearing high boots laced to the knees in an unconsciously comic attempt to dress the part.

Jim Bell, who operates the hotel at Fort Nelson, was watched them now for two years.

"A great number seem to be misfits in their own communities, or servicemen who couldn't adjust themselves to the humdrum life of peacetime," he told us. "We see them going up and we see them coming back down, broke. We've had to give many of them a meal, they were that flat."

There's a touch of gallantry about a lot of these people. Many of them scrawl chalk signs on the sides of their jallopies or write with a finger in the inevitable dust, "Alaska or Bust," or "Kilroy Rides Again," or "Beware, Chicago Drivers!" A large number of them wear their wartime uniforms, complete with rank and unit insignia.

But there are middle-aged and more-than-middle-aged people, too, and they tear at your heart. We've seen them in the eating places, worn out from the trip and thumbing wearily through the little yellow folder the RCMP gives you, listing the available stop-overs. They eagerly inquire about conditions "up there" and look at you without understanding if you tell them the truth.

In the small lodge at Rancheria, just over the Yukon border, we eavesdropped at lunch on a disillusioned couple whose ancient Ford carried Illinois license plates.

"Mosquitos, flat tires and more mosquitoes," the wife said. "And still 800 miles to go. If we were smart we'd turn around while we still have something left."

"Don't worry honey," the husband said. "It'll be okay when we get there."

My wife and I remembered the words of the mayor and sight of those bleak trailer towns in the outskirts of Fairbanks and then, later, they asked us what it was like and we didn't have the heart to tell the truth.

Still the Law

There is, of course, some protection for these new settlers. The cars are given a thorough check and they're not allowed to go on the highway if they're not "roadworthy." Also, the travellers must show enough money for the trip. Many are sent back to the States, cursing the Canadian authorities. They should bless them.

The highway, itself, as I've reported, is a fine road, but it is hard on cars and it's particularly hard on tires. The pounding of unrushed gravel over 1600 miles is more than most tires can take, especially at the excessive speed that most of these newcomers travel, accustomed to the paved highways of the States.

It's said that there's a discarded tire for every mile of the highway. That's putting it mildly. In many cases the travellers have mounted the blowout tire ceremoniously on tree stumps and at one point we saw a tire hung on the weather-beaten shell of an upright piano, a bizarre and forlorn sight in the lonely heart of the Yukon.

We talked this over with a mechanic at Big Delta in Alaska. He shook his head sadly. "Getting here and getting a job is bad enough," he said, "but wait'll they find out what winter is like." He pointed to a carved verse on the wall of his workshop. "They oughta give a copy of that to everybody who thinks about coming up here," he said.

I walked over and looked at the verse. "This is the law of the Yukon," it said, in words of Robert Service, "That only the strong shall thrive, That surely the weak shall perish, And only the fit survive."

Heavy Rain Aids Crops

Heavy showers in scattered areas in Alberta Sunday night and Monday morning gave a new lease of life to crops seriously in need of moisture, but were said to be too late to make much difference in southeastern Alberta, according to a Monday morning check of grain dealers' offices.

"The issue has already been decided in southeastern Alberta," one grain company official commented.

Hail fell in some scattered areas during Sunday night's storms, but none of the grain companies had any reports of crop damage, nor could any confirmation of damage be obtained from other sources.

Coarse grains, such as oats and barley would benefit from the showers, another official stated.

Showers were reported from Edmonton east as far as Lloydminster, but it was claimed that rains could in no sense be termed general. Spotty showers fell from Wetaskiwin to Hardisty, with fairly heavy downpours as far south as Consort.

Grand Prairie reports "spotty" rainfall which was fairly heavy—but a Falher source said that no rain has fallen there.

Athabasca reports heavy rains. No reports of wind damage had reached Edmonton Monday morning.

Says Some Poles Dissatisfied Here

Some of the Polish soldiers, who are working on Canadian farms are satisfied, an' some are not, Z. Grela, Polish consul of the western provinces, Winnipeg, said at the Macdonald hotel Monday.

Long hours, which in some cases amount to 16 hours a day, account for most of the complaints. However, the men came out under contract with the government, and there is nothing his office can do.

His job is to help all Polish people in the four western provinces. His headquarters are in Winnipeg.

Asked if Poland is dominated by Russian rule, Mr. Grela replied that the country is not under the rule of Russia. He added that every state is under certain ties to other states due to the economic conditions.

Before the war, the attitude of the Polish leaders was anti-Russian. Now the foreign policy is to have friendly relations with all countries.

He expressed the Polish people's appreciation for the help received from Canada, through UNRRA. The people are very grateful.

Mr. Grela, who was a lieutenant in the Polish army during the Second World War, was captured in the early fighting by the Germans, at Warsaw. Placed in a concentration camp, he escaped and returned to Poland in February 1945.

He rejoined the Polish foreign service, and in March 1946 he came to Canada as the secretary of the Polish legation. He was later appointed to his present capacity.

Former Railroad Official Is Dead

James Phillips, 10003 81 avenue, retired railway employe, died suddenly Sunday morning of a heart attack. He was 65 years old. Coming to Alberta from Renfrew Ont. in 1901 he homesteaded in the Didsbury district until 1912 when he moved to Edmonton.

In 1914 he resumed service with the Canadian Pacific Railway which he had begun in Renfrew in 1897.

During the construction of the subway at 109 street and Jasper in 1917 he accidently lost his leg and was then transferred to the signal section of the CPR. He transferred to the Canadian National Railways in 1920, and held a position for 26 years until his retirement last April.

He was a former Oddfellow, a past master of the Masonic Dominion Lodge No. 117 A.F. and A.M., and also a member of the North Star Chapter RAM No. 2.

He was chairman of the Railway Grievance Committee, and president of local lodge 95 of the Brotherhood of Maintenance of Way Employes. He was predeceased by his wife six years ago.

He is survived by three sons, William, John, and Alien, all of Edmonton, three brothers, William and Allen, both of Edmonton, Robert of Renfrew, and one sister, Mary at Renfrew.

A funeral service will be held in the Strathcona Baptist Church on Wednesday at 2 p.m. The Rev. G. M. Edwards will officiate, and burial will be in Mount Pleasant Cemetery. Hainstock and Son funeral home is in charge of arrangements.

Large Crowd of Spectators Held at Seba Beach, Lake Attends Annual Regatta Wabamum

The annual regatta at Seba Beach, Lake Wabamun, always held over the Edmonton civic holiday week-end, attracted thousands of spectators on Sunday. Weather was favorable, even if the sun, at times, was hidden behind the clouds. Nevertheless, a good time was had by all. Above are two scenes taken during the afternoon. The upper picture shows a section of the beach, and the crowd, estimated at more than 4,000 persons. The lower picture shows Alexandra "Sandy" MacDonald, well known skater and artist on the left and Mrs. Madge Keen, both of this city, as they chatted during a lull between races. See story on Page 5.

Displaced Persons To Be Discussed

Baron Cecil Hahn, who for the last few months has been engaged in Geneva as field secretary for the Baltic relief committee, will speak on "Displaced Persons of Europe" to a joint gathering of the Men's Canadian Club of Edmonton and the Institute of International Affairs at the Macdonald hotel Friday at 12.15 p.m.

The speaker is a native of Poland who prior to 1939 made his home in Latvia. Forced to leave in 1939 he made his home in Switzerland. He is well informed on both the Baltic refugee problem and on the problem of displaced persons in general.

Warns Against Communist Threat

Warning that a revolutionary movement in Canada is "feverishly active today," the Canadian Chamber of Commerce has issued a 40-page pamphlet entitled "The Communist Threat To Canada," a chapter of which names more than 100 persons including several residents of Edmonton.

The book, which is being distributed to chamber members across Canada used phrases like "the traitorous fifth column of Canadian Communists" and deals extensively with the spy investigation, and advises members how to recognize a "crypto-Communist" from his or her actions by word, gesture and general attiiude.

Many Caught in Rain

Sudden Showers Dim Holiday for Citizens

What began as a glorious civic holiday week end drenched with sunshine continued to drench relaxing Edmontonians today—but with a liquid brand of sky product. There was some hope that rain would definitely stop during the afternoon.

THE CONSERVATIVE weather forecast of "cloudy with thundershowers" caught many citizens off-guard last night as crisp summer dresses and trouser creases were washed out along with holidayers' hopes for continued bright weather.

First under-the-stars concert at Renfrew Park completed about a half-hour of its program before the deluge started and damp attendants disappeared.

MORE FORTUNATE were midnight-preview patrons of a downtown theatre. A block-long lineup of show-goers had just about been seated when the rain came.

Transportation officials reported that out-of-town holidayers, whose numbers approached the July 1 week-end exodus, were sticking it out at nearby beach resorts. Bus and railway companies stated that the post-holiday influx of returning residents had not yet begun late this morning.

Prospects for the remaining two games of the six-game Buffaloes-Cubs baseball series were good, as gasoline was burned to dry the Renfrew Park infield. The games were said to be "on."

Theatres and other indoor entertainment centres were looking forward to a busy day of patronage.

And the rest of Edmonton took duty, rainy-day books off the shelves and prepared to complete the week-end in housecoats and with pipes-and-slippers amid the comparative comforts of home.

Dies in Accident

James Irving, 23 year old RCAF veteran, of Sterco, was killed in a recent accident at Sterco. He was in charge of the Sterling Colliers' Machine Shop.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. K. Irving, of Vanderhoof, B. C., three brothers, Jerry, Bobby and Richard, all of Vanderhoof, and two sisters, Gloria, in Vanderhoof, and Dorothy, in Chicago.

Ottawa Official States:

Work on North Road Progressing Rapidly

Work on the Dominion government's 81-mile highway project from the Northern Alberta boundary to Hay River, on the Great Slave Lake, is well underway and with the best two months for construction ahead, the project can be completed this year, J. M. Wardle, director of surveys and engineering, department of mines and resources, Ottawa, said in an interview here Monday.

MR. WARDLE is visiting here after completing an inspection tour of the department's two major projects in the north country. The two main undertakings, the 81-mile highway, and a power dam project on the Snare River, 94 miles north-west of Yellowknife, both were held back, due to wet weather. However, both are now on schedule, Mr. Wardle said.

He added that 20 miles of the highway has been graded and if good weather conditions are enjoyed, the crews should complete about one mile a day.

WORK ON THE highway started on the northern end and crews are gradually working south. Gravel bases are being laid by the crews as they go along, Mr. Wardle said.

The highway will extend into Alberta and then completed will take in 325 miles between Grimshaw and Hay River. Two-thirds of the project is being undertaking by the provincial government.

Both sections will have the same engineering design, and will have a 20-foot clear width. He added that crews of the provincial section are doing well. Estimate cost of the provincial-dominion project is $2,500,000.

Work on the power project at Snare River, which will supply Yellowknife with electrical power, is on schedule, Mr. Wardle disclosed. At the present time rock facing on the upper face of the dam has been completed. The dam will have a 765 foot width crest.

Mr. Wardle added that he expects the unit to be in operation about the fall of 1948.

ALL EQUIPMENT for the power project has been brought in by boats from Waterways, barge to Frank Channel, and hauled 70 miles overland during the winter.

The estimated cost of the project is just under $3,000,000.

Mr. Wardle reported that there is no shortage of labor on the power project.

Referring to Jasper Park, Mr. Wardle, stated that there is a lot of surveying and plans for improvements to the park. One of these is to improve the east road through to the boundary.

Surveying of the park has been carried out to a great extent for the last two to three years, he said.

Commenting on the Blue River highway, he said it would be a major project to complete.

CITY VISITOR

Compensation Act Hearings Begin

The committee studying revision of the Workmen's Compensation Act, commenced sittings at the compensation board's offices Monday morning.

The committee was appointed at the last session of the Alberta Legislature, and will report its findings to the next sitting.

Twenty-one labor groups and industrial organizations have presented briefs, and representatives of each group will give verbal presentations at public hearings commencing in the Legislative Buildings Thursday.

Committee's work Monday consisted in a clause-by-clause study of the terms of the Workmen's Compensation Act. It is expected that the committee will sub-divide on Tuesday to review the different phases of administration.

Dr. J. L. Robinson (SC-Medicine Hat) is chairman, and R. A. Anderson is secretary.

St. Stephen's College Chapel Scene of Wilson-Fryer Wedding

In a noon wedding ceremony at St. Stephen's College chapel Saturday, Miss Jean Porter Fryer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. James R. Fryer, of Edmonton, became the bride of Thomas Walter Wilson, son of Henry Wilson and the late Mrs. Wilson, of Belfast, Ireland. Dr. William Hollingsworth performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a dawn rose dress fashioned with side drapes, three-quarter length sleeves, a v-neck line, and covered buttons. Her matching hat was an off-the-face model and she carried a colonial bouquet of mixed flowers.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Harold Stickman, of Vancouver, who wore a similarly styled dress and hat of green and carried a semi-colonial bouquet of summer flowers.

William Hoar was the best man and Keith Elcombe was an usher. Miss Peggy Molloy played the wedding music and Dr. Margaret Hutton sang the traditional Pi Beta Phi wedding song during the signing of the register.

Later at a reception in the Macdonald hotel, Mrs. Fryer, wearing a blue crepe dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses, received the 35 guests with the wedding party. Prof. E. H. Strickland proposed the toast to the bride.

Mrs. Anson Williams, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. S. S. Longman poured tea. The Misses Peggy Molloy, Doris Sheppard and Betty Gullerne, Mrs. C. P. Coole and Mrs. George Harvey, of Montreal, assisted in serving.

Leaving for a honeymoon trip at Waterton Lakes and Glacier National park, the bride changed to a gray wool suit with matching top-coat and black accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilson will take up residence at Suite 4, Shaugnessy apartments.

Gibb-Craig Wedding Held

St. Stephen's College chapel was the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Marie Violet Craig, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Craig, of Vancouver, and Walter Gibb, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gibb, of Ladner. The Rev. E. J. Thompson performed the ceremony and Miss Lucy Gainer played the wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a pale blue gabardine dressmaker suit with pink straw hat, blue chest and pink and blue accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

Mrs. F. E. Dickson attended the bride as matron-of-honor. She wore a lime green dressmaker suit with black accessories and corsage of Talisman roses. Ted Thibaudeau was best man and Robert MacDonald was usher.

At a reception at the Macdonald hotel, after the ceremony, mothers of the bride and bridegroom received with the wedding party. A three-tier wedding cake, flanked by vases of sweetpeas and tapers, centred the bride's table.

Later the couple left for a honeymoon trip to Jasper, the bride travelling in her wedding ensemble and topped off gray wool. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Gibb will reside in Edmonton.

Out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Craig, Vancouver; Mrs. William Gibb, Ladner and Mrs. S. G. Mason and her daughter, Miss Peggy Lou Mason, Regina.

Jamha-Cronk Vows Marked

Flowers banked the altar of St Faith's Anglican Church for the wedding Saturday at 7:30 p.m., of Miss Alice Elizabeth Cronk, and Roy Hassan Jamha, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jamha, all of Edmonton. The Rev. L. M. Watts performed the ceremony and during the signing of the register Miss Patricia Smith sang Because.

For her wedding the bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin, fashioned with a full skirt terminating in a train and bodice having a V-neckline and lily point sleeves. Her long net veil was caught to her head with a pearl headdress and she carried a white Bible decorated with red roses.

Miss Lola Dyster attended the bride as bridesmaid. She wore a powder blue dress featuring a peplum and short sleeves complemented with white lace collar. She carried a bouquet of carnations. Harry Carrall was best man.

After the ceremony, a reception was held, when the bridegroom's mother received with the wedding party. Mrs. Jamha wore a two-piece turquoise blue dress with black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses. A three-tier wedding cake, flanked by vases of carnations, centred the bride's table. Hugh Knott proposed the toast to the bride.

For a honeymoon trip to Vancouver, the bride wore a gray suit with red accessories. Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Jamha will reside in Edmonton.

Largest U. S. Expedition Organized By Young Graduate

NEW YORK, (N.A.N.A.) — A unique American expedition, organized almost singlehandedly by a 25-year-old University of California graduate student and now backed by such prominent men as Premier Jan Christian Smuts of South Africa, Adm. E. Byrd, president Robert G. Sproul of the University of California, leading American anthropologists, and even American industrial concerns, will leave the United States to probe the mystery of strange half-ape, half-man fossils found near Johannesburg, South Africa.

The skulls are ranked in importance with the famed Java, Peking and Neanderthal men, and are considered a vital link in the mystery of man's origin. Though these latest findings have not definitely been established in geologic era, they are believed to be from an earlier age than the three well-known fossils—believed to be roughly 500,000 years old. Scientists have not concluded whether they are late ape or early man. Thus, they may be what is popularly called "the missing link"—though scientists contend there is none, because comparison with living gorillas alone give ample evidence of man's descent from this branch.

Started By Student

The projected American undertaking, called the University of California African expedition, was organized by Wendell Phillips, a graduate student in paleontology. It is under the direction of Dr. Charles L. Camp, director of the university's paleontology museum on the campus at Berkeley.

In addition to studying fossils, the expedition will do a comprehensive survey of the African bushmen who live on the Kalahari desert. These primitives, isolated from the world for thousands of years, still use stone-age methods. The poisoned dart is their principal weapon and they stalk animals in the manner of jungle beasts.

Phillips, a blond young man with a wisp of a mustache and an energetic manner, says, "I'm no scientist." His reason for promoting the project was his belief that "scientific discoveries are the concern of everyone." He viewed himself as a catalyst between the impoverished academicians he found in his classrooms and the industrial wealth he helped transport overseas as a helmsman in the U.S. merchant marine during the war.

Largest Expedition

So successful was the slim, earnest youth that his list of donations will help make the project the largest American expedition ever to undertake scientific work in Africa. Phillips donations include 10 specially-built trucks from the General Motors Corporation, 50,000 gallons of gasoline and lubricants through Gen. James Doolittle of the Shell Oil Co., a complete supply of guns and ammunition from Colt Patent Fire Arms Co., and the latest-type wire recording machines (for transcribing songs and ceremonies of primitive African bushmen) from the General Electric Co. Other industrial and financial contributions of similar magnitude are being negotiated by the youth.

Typical of Phillips' unrestrained enthusiasm for the project was his enlistment of Field Marshal Smuts' support. Armed with a letter from Dr. Sproul, Phillips sought out Smuts during a United Nations meeting here last year. Smuts, the author of a book and a philosphy called "Holism," based partly on the study of early man, was at once a supporter of a project close to both his philosphy and his native land. He has since been chairman of the expedition's advisory committee and according to Phillips, "takes a much more important part in the project than most chairmen do." Phillips was a guest of Smuts during a recent trip to South Africa, where he went to lay the groundwork for the trek of approximately 20 American scientists to the area.

Skulls Found

In addition to being a personal triumph for young Phillips, the expedition marks a victory for two South African anthropologists, Dr. Robert Broom of the Transvaal museum and Prof. Raymond Dart of the University of Witwatersand. In 1925, Dart found a child ape skull and noted that it had more human characteristics than any previous ape fossil. In the 22 years until 1947, Dr. Broom unearthed two other fossils, different from each other and unlike Dart's discovery.

Dr. Broom's finds, located in a limestone quarry near Sterkfontein, were damaged by commercial blasting at the site and by natural "cementing" of scattered bones. But to Dr. Broom they implied a confirmation of Charles Darwin's theory that the origin of man took place in South Africa while periodic phases of the ice age covered most o the northern hemisphere.

TRACE OLD REPTILES

The first major clue to giant reptiles and other long extinct fauna of Rhodesia, Africa, was found by A. M. Macgregor, geologist, in the course of surveying coal deposits in the Sebungwe area. While crossing the beds of two ancient lakes he found remains of reptiles and fish which occupied the Busi area millions of years ago. One was the Dinocephelus ("Fearful Head") which existed when animals gave up crawling and took to walking, and the mammal made its appearance.

Price Of Corn Hits Century Top

CHICAGO, (AP)— An all-time high for any corn future in the 99-year history of the Chicago board of trade was established Monday when September corn sold at 2.22⅞ cents a bushel, up eight cents from Saturday's close.

The previous high was 2.21 scored by the July contract last month.

All corn for future delivery advanced the eight-cent limit permitted in a single session within the first few minutes of trading. Strength in corn was reflected in sharp advances for wheat and oats.

Within the first minute of trading all corn contracts jumped the eight-cent limit, where they closed. Wheat was aided by a strong cash market. All oats contracts hit new seasonal highs.

Wheat finished 2¾-3¼ higher, Sept. 2.34¼-2.34, and oats were 4 to 4¾ higher, the September contract ending 1.00⅝-⅝.

Cash wheat: No. 1 red 2.37¼-2.40½; corn: No. 1 yellow 2.28¾-2.30; oats: No. 1 heavy mixed 1.05½-1.07½; barley: malting 1.92; rye: No. 2 grades 2.42-2.50N.

COCA COLA PROFITS

NEW YORK. (AP) — The Coca-Cola Company reported for the June quarter net profit of $7,856,549, equal to $1.91 a common share, compared with $7,066,952, or $1.72 a share, in the second quarter of 1946. For the first six months profit of $11,306,083 was equal to $2.75 a common share, compared with $10,381,675, or $2.52 a share last year.

An aged Chinese living in Yenan wears a "Welcome Home" badge as Nationalist troops hold the former Communist capital after capturing it from them. The moth-eaten fur cap is his most prized possession. Nationalists invited U.S. correspondents on their first tour of the former Red Capital, once called the "Heart of Democracy."

Debate Future Of British Bonds

LONDON, (AP)—The government got out of the stock market last week, removing the official prop under government securities, and share prices dropped in one of the market's most sensational breaks in years.

Conservative estimates figure the loss in market values on the London exchange in more than a week at more than £500,000,000 ($2,000,000,000).

So severe was the break that analysts speculated in the possibility that minimum prices would be imposed for all British government securities dealt in on the exchange.

The effect of such action perhaps would "freeze" the market in government bonds for the time being. People could not sell unless there was somebody ready to buy at the legal minimum.

Such a "freezing" measure was adopted during the war, but at much lower prices.

"Cheap Money" Gone?

Immediately behind the break in prices was what appeared to be at least temporary abandonment of the government's "cheap money" plan.

But looming large was the spectre of economic chaos in dollar-short debt-ridden Britain.

Market recovery on a substantial scale, one highly placed source who declined to be quoted directly said, depends upon what Prime Minister Attlee says in the commons debate on the economic crisis this week.

While emphasizing that unloading in the stock market was not of "the panic" variety, the source admitted that it did amount to "nervous liquidation."

Observers regarded it as highly probable that heads of the Labor government would not be much concerned with the losses of wealthy investors and professional speculators in the market.

But what he has in mind remained the secret of Hugh Dalton, chancellor of the exchequer. In removing official support, some maret sources said, Dalton was trying to mop up surplus spending power.

Boasted Of Record

Since the Labor government came into power two years ago, Dalton has been proud of his cheap money policy, of the fact that he could force interest rates down from three percent and borrow for the government at the rate of 2½ percent.

If government issues failed to sell, they were underwritten by the national debt commissioner who has behind him the vast sterling resources of Great Britain.

On Oct. 28, 1946, Dalton refunded £429,000,000 ($1,716,000,000) worth of three percent "local loan" bonds with an issue of £480,000,000 ($1,520,000,000 at 2½ percent par £100.

"But," he added, "the national debt commissioner probably held a great deal of the local loan issue."

The 2½ percent issue with the uncertain maturity date of 1975 or after, has since gained the name among brokers of "Dalton's 2½ irredeemables."

The question now is: has Dalton a plan? And what did he tell members of the parliamentary Labor party at their "crisis" meeting last week?

Policy Is Puzzle

The only certainty in the market last week was that the national debt commissioner, whose principal function is to manage the national debt for the government, neither was buying nor selling.

In general, prices of government securities dipped lower than they were two years ago when the Labor government took office. The interest rate, as a result, rose to slightly more than three percent.

Whether the pound would be deflated was the subject of rumors during the week, but one highly placed source scoffed at such a possibility.

Depreciation, he said, would increase the price of necessary imports and decrease earnings from current exports, making Britain's critical economic position still worse.

With taxes at their current high level, he said, there is no need to resort to devaluation to prevent inflation—the only advantage to be gained from such a move under the circumstances.

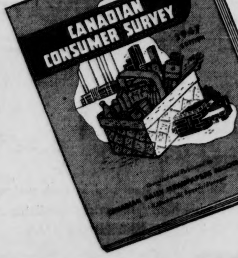
CANADA'S KITCHENS are obsolete!



CDNA CONSUMER SURVEY REVEALS THE FACTS!

THE recently completed cross-country Consumer Survey "tells all." It shows what the Canadians want to buy ; ; ; it shows how their habits have changed ; ; ; it shows whose goods they like and where they buy. And, it particularly reveals to manufacturers of home equipment just what the women of this country need to make house-keeping a modern duty instead of an old-fashioned chore.

During the war years, and into the peace years, sales and advertising managers have been guessing at Canada's buying power and buying desires. In the all-embracing Consumer Survey they can find the answers to all their questions. They can plan and advertise intelligently.

The Consumer Survey is NOT a "guesstimate". It is a scientific study of Canada and its people. It is the work of 79 daily newspapers . . . each of which studied its own market, impartially and accurately ; ; ; so that the manufacturers of Canada could chart their sales and advertising courses from accurate up-to-the-minute information to the utmost advantage.

The Consumer Survey was a costly project and is not intended for unlimited distribution, but any sincere manufacturer may obtain a copy or see one at the office of his advertising agency. The price is $5.00.

ONLY DAILY NEWSPAPERS COULD DO THIS JOB!

Modern research is a reporting job ; ; ; and that's a job newspapers can do best. During the past few months the daily newspapers of Canada turned their attention to reporting Canada, as Canada is today! Twenty thousand homes were called on. Twenty thousand people gave the answers to over two hundred questions. Thus, the daily newspapers, once again, sought, and obtained, the kind of information business wants ; ; ; and needs!
